Roosevelt Court Plan Is Given Sharp Setback

Recommendation Against Supreme Bench Reorganization Sent to U.S. Senate By Committee On 10 to 8 Vote

Judge Van Devanter Gives Resignation

Associated Press

Washington, May 18.—President Roosevelt's effort to reorganize the United States Supreme Court, whose decisions against New Deal legislation killed the Blue Eagle, today had its first severe setback when it failed to get approval of the Senate judiciary committee.

The committee voted ten to eight to report adversely to the Senate the court reorganization bill, which would enlarge the highest law tribunal unless justices over seventy years old retired.

VAN DEVANTER RETIRES

The committee acted after hearing the announcement of retirement of Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter, seventy-eight-year-old bencher of conservative leanings who has consistently found New Deal legislation outside the competence of the United States Congress.

The justice, who has served twenty-six years in the court, made known his intention to resign June 2 in a letter to the President. The letter was a straight application for the privileges of a pensioned United States justice and did not give any reason for his action other than his advanced years.

MAY NAME ECONOMIST

Speculation today over a Supreme Court successor to Justice Van Devanter included a host of government officials.

Under the law, there is no requirement a lawyer be named to the tribunal. Officials said it would be possible for the President to select a leading economist for a place in the court.

Council Dislikes Fire Rate Boost

Mayor McGavin Advocates Change in Insurance Policies to Non-board Companies; Council Will Ask Underwriters to Restore Old Rates

Renewal of all city fire insurance policies with non-board companies was advocated by Mayor Andrew McGavin last night, as the City Council attacked the reported 10 per cent increase on mercantile insurance risks in the city.

"We should fight this strongly. We should turn around and give renewals to non-board companies even if they, the board companies, allow the 10 per cent rate reduction. They have been getting away with too much," Mayor McGavin said.

The mayor's statements were made prior to the unanimous passing of a resolution of protest against the proposed increase in the mercantile risk rate, and to the method in which notification of that increase was made.

The resolution drew attention to the fact that fire losses in Victoria for the first four months of this year were 46 per cent less than those for the corresponding period in 1936. In view of the fact the city's losses were at the lowest level in years, the council requested the underwriters to reconsider the action imposing the arbitrary increase and to notify the council in due course of their decision on the matter. The city asked that former rates be continued pending notification to the council.

MORGAN GIVES VIEWS

Speaking to the motion he sponsored, Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan presented an exhaustive survey of insurance profits in the city. He declared the underwriters' statements regarding the inadequacy of the present city fire-fighting facilities unfair, uncalculated and not in accord with facts and figures as they stood.

During 1936 Victoria ratepayers contributed approximately $180,000 for the maintenance of the fire department.

British Ships to Remove Ministers if Insurgents Take North Spain City

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 18.—Basque government sources reported tonight the British government had agreed to evacuate officials of besieged Bilbao on a destroyer if the Basque capital falls to the insurgents.

Another report, broadcast by insurgents, said the Basque minister of the interior had fled from Bilbao for France aboard a yacht.

Basque representatives here said Britain had agreed to give Basque President Jose Antonio Aguirre and his ministers refuge in England.

EXECUTIONS ORDERED

Gen. Franco, the Basques said, had served notice he would shoot the officials when his armies entered Bilbao. The radio Verdad said the Basque yacht Goizeko Iztarra, which had been used to evacuate Bilbao children to France, left Bilbao for Bordeaux with 7,000,000 pesetas in jewels belonging to the Basque government and to Bilbao individuals.

INSURGENTS ADVANCE

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, May 18.—Gen. Franco's insurgent command, announced today its armies had "completely dominated" the important Basque defence of Amorebieta, and that columns were pushing on toward Bilbao, nine miles to the northwest.

MRS. M. MENKUS DIES SUDDENLY

Retired Teacher Passes Away on Day of Husband's Funeral

Falling to rally from the shock of the sudden death of her husband, who passed away last Friday morning, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Menkus, widow of Morris Menkus, died suddenly at an early hour this morning at her home, 1105 Princess Avenue.

Mrs. Menkus had been a patient in hospital, returning home only shortly before her husband died, and by a tragic coincidence, she passed away on the same day.

She was born in Victoria, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Sylvester, well-known pioneers, and received her early education in the local schools and the Victoria High School. She took up teaching as a profession and became a member of the city teaching staff in August, 1899. She began at the Boys' Central School. For a number of years Mrs. Menkus was a popular and much-respected member of the staff of the George Jay School, and resigned in June, 1931, after thirty years' service.

She is survived by one son, Julian, in San Diego; one daughter, Mrs. E. E. Reed, in Wenatchee, Wash.; one brother in Little Rock, Ark.; one sister, Mrs. Saunders, in Los Angeles, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services for the late Morris Menkus were held this morning at 11 o'clock, Rabbi M. Berner conducting the services in the presence of many sorrowing friends. The casket was hidden beneath many beautiful flowers.

Interment was in the Jewish Cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: H. I. Mallek, I. Waxstock, H. Homan, J. Greenwood, J. A. Dewar and H. L. Butters.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Menkus will be announced later.

Ex-King's Wedding Day Set For June 3

At New York Mrs. Helen Tiernan Absolves Her Suitor in Crime

New York, May 18.—District Attorney L. Barron Hill of Suffolk County announced today Mrs. Helen Tiernan, twenty-six, a widow, had absolved George Christodoulus, her suitor, of any connection with the "babes in the wood" slaying of her seven-year-old daughter, and told him "I did it all alone."

The young mother, charged with homicide in the hatchet and knife slaying of the child, Helen, last Saturday in a lonely thicket on Long Island's south shore, and with attempting to kill her four-year-old son, Jimmie, at the same place, broke down when confronted by her suitor, Hill said.

He quoted her as saying she alone had wielded the hatchet and knife, and applied the torch to the gasoline used in an effort to hide the crime, and said her motive was that she wanted to get rid of the children because her apartment was too crowded.

In an earlier statement she was quoted as having told police Christodoulus had plotted the deaths with her.

NATIONALITY EMPIRE TOPIC

Delegates at Conference in London Attract Many Visitors' Attention

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
London, May 18.—Problems of British nationality are to be submitted to an Imperial Conference committee.

Coronation visitors who still crowd the neighborhood of Whitehall were intrigued this morning by the sudden appearance of conference motorcars, each bearing the tiny flag of some Dominion.

They stopped before 10 Downing Street, deposited the delegates and then departed. Rumors spread of secret meetings in the saloons of the Prime Minister's residence.

The reality was less romantic. Inquiry revealed the meeting merely had discussed formation of a constitutional committee and decided to recommend it to the heads of delegations tomorrow. One of the constitutional questions to come before the committee will be that of nationality.

FOREIGN POLICY

Preliminary talks indicate that Australia plans to make a bid for closer association with Britain in foreign policy. Prime Minister Joseph A. Lyons already has proposed a non-aggression pact wherein powers bordering the Pacific would participate.

Another Australian proposal, although not yet formally submitted to the Imperial Conference—is creation of a permanent council in London which would deal with foreign policy in the intervals between Imperial Conferences.

OPPOSITION EXPECTED

Both proposals are likely to meet opposition. Attempts to establish permanent organizations in London always are regarded jealously by the Dominions anxious of their autonomy. Difficulties in the way of a Pacific pact, particularly if it involves mutual assistance against an aggressor, are frankly admitted.

The Australian Pacific proposal, however, has an economic side, with which the conference discussions may be able to register some advance. Australia wants new markets in the Orient. She is producing more wheat and wool than the British Empire alone can absorb. She is looking to China and Japan as outlets for the trade she seeks as a necessary preliminary to better relations among the Pacific powers.

At the opening plenary session of the conference last Friday Prime Minister King of Canada urged the lowering of dams against international trade as a means to peace.

Newport, R.I., May 18.—Endeavour II, T. O. M. Sopwith's second bid for the America's Cup, arrived in Newport Harbor today after an uneventful eighteen-day passage from Gosport, England.

From Newport the big sloop will go almost immediately to Bristol for grooming at the Herreshoff shipyard. At the same yard is Harold S. Vanderbilt's newly constructed Ranger, dismantled last Saturday off Gloucester, Mass., while under tow from Bath, Me., to Newport for preparation as a cup defence aspirant.

While a new spar is being constructed at the Bath Iron Works, where Ranger was launched last Tuesday, Ranger will use a mast formerly used by Rainbow, Vanderbilt's successful cup defender in 1934.

Bazooka Star Visits City

Bob Burns, Cruising Island Waters, Thinks This Area "One of Grandest Spots on Earth"

BOB BURNS

Vancouver Island is "one of the grandest spots on earth," in the opinion of Bob Burns, the bazooka-toting and drawing radio and screen comedian from Van Buren, Arkansas.

That was what he told Vic Simmons, clerk in the clothing department of David Spencer's, when he dropped in yesterday afternoon to buy himself a camel-hair coat during a sudden visit to Victoria.

The teller of tall stories is making a two-weeks' cruise of Vancouver Island waters in a thirty-five foot boat with two companions. He came over from Bremerton to Sidney yesterday and drove in to Victoria for a short while. The boat left Sidney this morning.

Bob Burns said he was up here to fish and to rest. To do it he will have to miss two more of his Thursday broadcasts with Bing Crosby. He thinks Bing is "the greatest guy in the world to work for."

STRIKES SOON MAY BE ENDED

Indications at Windsor, Ont., Are 400 Will Shortly Return to Work

Windsor, Ont., May 18.—Settlement of the strikes which have curtailed production in the plants of L. A. Young Industries of Canada Ltd. and Walker Metal Products Ltd. appeared likely today.

J. L. Cohen, Toronto lawyer who is adviser to the United Automobile Workers' unions, conferred with leaders of United Automobile Workers' Local 195, which called the strike, and Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Ontario Department of Labor, was to meet with C. E. Platt, manager of Young Industries.

Union leaders intimated the strikes were almost over and they had hopes of reaching a settlement today that would send 400 men and women back to work in the two plants.

PICKET LINES

Heavy picket lines were maintained outside both factories today, while provincial and city police stood by to maintain order when non-striking employees arrived to go to work. Non-striking were booted as usual.

Last night resolutions protesting presence of police, drawn up by union leaders, were sent to Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario and to Ottawa.

A demand was made for the withdrawal of twenty-one Ontario policemen sent in on patrol duty.

Allotment of $200,000 Programme Made; Details To Be Arranged Shortly

Governmental assistance to fit young men and women of British Columbia to take their place in the economic life will be provided in a $200,000 youth programme arranged between Provincial and Dominion authorities and announced here today by Premier Pattullo.

The Premier said he had received word from Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, that the Dominion had set aside $100,000 for the purpose, to be matched by a similar amount by the province.

Alan Chambers, former Victorian, who is chairman of the advisory council on youth to the national unemployment commission, and Mrs. A. Landi, a member of the council, will come to the coast shortly to arrange details with provincial officials, the Premier said.

It is proposed, the Premier said, in a written statement to use the fund along four main lines, as follows:

(a) Training projects of a vocational nature, devised to increase

Ontario Mining Town Is Flooded

Communications at Longlac, North of Lake Superior, Cut Off as River and Lake Levels Rise

Longlac, Ont., May 18.—With communication and power lines cut off, this northern Ontario mining town, 175 miles northeast of Port Arthur, was flooded today as the waters of Long Lake surged through the town. The lake overflowed its banks following heavy rains during the weekend and yesterday. Local residents said the only flood in the town's history "threatens to float it away."

CITIZENS USE CANOES

Canoes are the only form of transportation in the town and district. The electrical plant which supplies electricity for the town was flooded late yesterday, and there was no power available during the night. The one hotel ceased operation when water swirled more than a foot deep through the beverage room and lobby. The rising waters of the lake also threatened prospectors' shacks located along the banks. The Canadian National Railway track was covered by from eight inches to a foot of water.

BAZOOKA STAR VISITS CITY

BUYS INDIAN SWEATERS

In Victoria the comedian also acquired several Indian sweaters and stock of tobacco. He also had a look at a district from which, he said, a lot of his fan mail comes. During his fifteen minutes in the store Bob lived up to his reputation for dry humor. "There were millions of smart cracks—I'm afraid I cannot remember all of these," said Vic Simmons this morning.

Bob was born in the Arkansas hills, the son of an engineer. At various times in his career he grew peanuts, sold hay and worked as a civil engineer. He tried to break into vaudeville before the war and flopped.

He concocted his famous bazooka out of a couple of pieces of gas pipe and a tin funnel during the war, and when peace came he took it on the vaudeville stage with him, this time with success. In 1930 he went to Hollywood and played bit parts in the films. Later he went on the radio, and finally won the comedian's spot on Bing Crosby's hour. From radio he graduated back into the movies. This time to stardom.

Council Dislikes Fire Risk Boost

partment and paid out in premiums about $538,000 annually for protection. For this it received back $19,000 in 1936, leaving a profit to the insurance companies amounting to $18.70 for every dollar paid out in losses.

He detailed figures for the first four months of 1937, showing a similar condition prevailing.

"This does not sound as though there were any inadequacy of fire-fighting facilities," Alderman Morgan said, adding, "This improved condition has been brought about by the readjustment of our fire-fighting equipment and the high efficiency of our personnel."

"Our efficiency will again be increased by at least 20 per cent when Oak Bay operates its own fire department."

NEED COMMISSION

"This arbitrary increase in rates again points out the necessity for a provincial insurance commission with full power to set rates to be charged in various sections of the province. "Figures prove that we in Victoria are paying losses incurred by the fire underwriters in unprotected areas."

"Victoria has been a virtual gold mine for fire insurance companies. The time for this practice of charging full power to set rates to be charged in various sections of the province."

Alderman Morgan quoted letters from Brown Bros. Ltd. stating that non-board firms had no intention of increasing rates until losses proved the present charges inadequate.

Similar statements were made in a letter from Cameron Investment and Securities Company. Johnson and Company Limited stated it contemplated no rate increase at present.

Alderman Morgan further stated 90 per cent of insurance written on mortgaged properties in Victoria was directed through board channels by loan houses.

CHANGE OF OPINION

Alderman Archie Wills commended Alderman Morgan for his report and spoke of the city's meeting with the underwriters, at which the council had been led to believe the underwriters were in accord with consolidation moves of the fire wardens.

The underwriters had undertaken not to increase the rates without first referring the matter to the council. This has not been done, the alderman said. He suggested that Alderman Morgan's brief be sent with the resolution. Agents in the city were not entirely in favor of the rate increase, he said.

Alderman Ed. Williams asked if the council had been officially notified of the change in rate.

In the ordinary course of events the city would not be notified, Alderman Morgan said.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar and Alderman James Adam complimented the fire warden's chairman on his brief and said they thought rates should be reduced, not increased.

Surprise was expressed by Alderman John Worthington and Alderman S. H. O'Keefe over the announcement.

Alderman O'Keefe thought a move led by Alderman Wills to append information compiled by Alderman Morgan to the protest resolution should be supported.

NO OAK BAY CHANGE

Questioned by the mayor, Alderman Morgan stated there had been no change in Oak Bay rates. The underwriters' executive were all Vancouver men. Victoria should have some representation on the board.

Alderman O'Keefe noted fire insurance agents at an earlier date had been definitely against higher rates. He thought the council could secure their support in a campaign against the increase.

"If you are going to give insurance to non-board companies the city can save about $1,500 a year," Alderman T. W. Hawkins remarked.

Alderman Wills closed the debate with a motion asking the comptroller to present a report relative to policies held by board companies, the advisability of cancelling them and the costs of placing them with non-board firms. His motion carried.

TO 100 REPORTERS

The announcement, handed to 100 British, United States and French newspapermen at the gates of the chateau by Herman Rogers, spokesman for the ex-king, said:

"His Royal Highness the Duke of Windsor announces that his marriage to Wallis Warfield, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Teakle Wallis Warfield of Maryland, will take place at the Chateau de Candé at Monts on Thursday, June 3."

A drizzling rain was falling as Mr. Rogers talked with the newspapermen. He was so excited he dropped frantically for the French words needed to translate the announcement for French reporters.

TWO STATEMENTS

The typed announcement was on blue office stationery. There were two separate statements, one of the wedding itself, bearing the title "Official Statement of the Duke of Windsor's Marriage."

The other was titled, "Official Statement Regarding the Destruction of the Wedding." This was the one which said the wedding party would be confined to "those who have been with them during the past months," and added tersely:

"There will be no members of the royal family present."

At the top of each sheet were the words, "Chateau de Candé, Monts," typed together with the date, May 18. It had been supposed by many till today the Duke of Kent would be best man.

BIRTHDAY SOON

The wedding will fall just twenty days before the Duke's forty-third birthday.

Mrs. Warfield will be forty-one on June 19.

LIST TO LONDON

The Duke's equestrian, Dudley Forward, was to take a list of guests to London for approval, it was believed.

Mr. Forward was then to escort Mrs. Warfield's aunt, Mrs. D. Buchanan Morrison, of Washington, D.C., to the chateau.

FIRST GUEST

Mrs. Merryman, due to arrive at Havre about the liner President Roosevelt Friday, was described here as the "first wedding guest."

Paris, May 18.—A Havas News Agency dispatch from Vienna today said preparations were underway at the Castle of Wasserleuburg in Carinthia to receive the Duke of Windsor and his bride after their marriage June 3.

The insurgents reported Amoreleta was in flames and apparently empty of defenders, and that they had advanced to a point 1,300 feet from it.

They took the nearby villages of Echano, Epizua, Anasua, Arrinda, Dudagoitia, and the monastery of San Miguel.

The insurgents, it was announced, were hastening the destruction of Amoreleta. They captured considerable quantities of war materials which they said the Basques, with heavy casualties, had left on the field.

The north wing of the attacking force, an insurgent radio broadcast said, already was thrust against Bilbao's system of trench fortifications after taking Munguia, nine miles north of the capital on the Bermeo-Bilbao highway. Basque dispatches claimed, however, the insurgents had been blocked before reaching Munguia, a key point in the defense.

TRIBUTES ON B.C. DAY IN LONDON

Lieutenant-Governor Hamber at Service With Premier King and Other Leaders; Also at Ceremony at Vancouver's Grave

London, May 18.—This was British Columbia's day in London. Hundreds of Canadians, here for the Coronation, joined with representatives of the province and the federal government at two special services arranged to mark the day.

In the morning the first annual service was held in St. Mary's Woolnoth, Lombard Street, which henceforth will be known as the Church in London of the Province of British Columbia. In the afternoon the annual ceremony of honoring the memory of Captain George Vancouver, the British explorer for whom Vancouver Island and the city of Vancouver were named, was held in St. Peter's Church, Peterham.

Lieut.-Gov. Hamber ATTENDS

The service in St. Mary's Woolnoth was attended by a prominent group of dignitaries, including the Lord Mayor of London, with the sheriffs and members of the corporation. Prime Minister King, Hon. Eric W. Hamber, Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, Hon. E. L. Patenaude, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, Premier A. A. Dymally of New Brunswick, and Hon. B. W. Le Page, president of the Executive Council of Prince Edward Island.

Among those present were 200 residents of British Columbia. Rear-Admiral J. H. Edgell represented the First Lord of the Admiralty.

Viscount and Viscountess Ellikbank, and Frederick Hurd, Canadian trade commissioner.

LORD MAYOR READS LESSON

Most Rev. A. U. de Pencier, Archbishop of Westminster, and the rector of the church, Rev. W. E. S. Holland, conducted the service. The lesson was read by the Lord Mayor.

The service was broadcast in the home and Empire programmes of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

TRIBUTES TO NAVIGATOR

The service commemorating the 139th anniversary of the death of Capt. Vancouver was organized by W. A. McAdam, acting Agent-General for British Columbia.

Tribute to the intrepid navigator was paid by Rev. R. S. Mills, who declared British owed a big debt to her early explorer, whose courage, spirit of adventure and able seamanship had laid the very foundations of a great Empire.

Lieutenant-Governor Hamber, placing a wreath on the grave of Captain Vancouver on behalf of the Native Sons of British Columbia, said that "here in a quiet English churchyard grew the man whose brilliant efforts and untiring devotion we owe the foundations of the province we honor today."

He recalled the growth of the province had been closely associated with the British navy.

MINISTER SPEAKS

Hon. Ian Mackenzie also spoke briefly, associating himself with the Lieut.-Governor's remarks, praising Vancouver and assuring British Columbia of the province's loyalty.

Hotel officials expressed doubt that the Golden Gate Fiesta late this month.

Hindenburg Disaster Inquiry

Lakehurst, N.J., May 18.—At least a month must pass before Captain Max Pruss and his chief officer, Captain Albert Sammt, will be able to tell their stories of the destruction of the dirigible Hindenburg before the United States Department of Commerce investigating board, now in session here.

Both officers, badly burned in the disaster at Lakehurst May 6, are in the Medical Center Hospital in New York and are in no condition to be interviewed or to give depositions.

The investigating board looks to these two officers to learn what happened in the Hindenburg's control car when the flames broke out in the ship's tail.

Addressing a meeting here Saturday he said if Conservatives were elected to power one action certainly would be taken, reduction of the size of the Legislature to a "reasonable number."

"How many," asked a member of the audience, Mr. Anscomb replied that thirty members would be about the correct number, eliminating eighteen. However, this was not an authoritative statement, and might not represent the consensus of the Conservative Party.

Mr. Anscomb said that not only had Premier Pattullo disregarded the Liberal "work and wages" slogan, but it could not be fulfilled anyway.

"Conditions beyond the power of the provincial administration make it quite impossible to give any assurance of work for all. The only hope is to restore confidence in investments and revive industry, through putting Conservatives into power."

UNIT OF ACTION

"Only through unity of action shall we frustrate the counter-revolution and avoid an 'embassy of Vergara'." (This is a historic Spanish reference—meaning "peace without victory.")

"Comrades, only your responsible committees' direction! Let nobody play into the hands of provocators! Calmness! Firmness! Unity!"

Roosevelt's Aides May Call Bouncer

Washington, May 18.—The White House offices were wired today with a series of "bouncer buttons," just in case some unexpected caller should get rough with one of President Roosevelt's aides.

Whether the new protective system—linking five secretaries' offices with the police guard stationed in the lobby—resulted from a specific incident, no official would say.

Dust Storm In Saskatchewan

Regina, May 18.—Dust and flying sand today caused damage to thousands of acres of growing wheat in the Regina, Weyburn, Gravelbourg, Assiniboia, Verger, Shaunavon and Swift Current districts.

Wind of velocity of forty to fifty miles an hour blew across southern Saskatchewan from the southeast, covering hundreds of miles of crop country.

Capt. F. Hatfield Is Returned to Canada

Concord, N.H., May 18.—Captain Freeman Hatfield, who for the past two years has fought extradition to Canada to answer charges of illegally collecting $71,000 reparations for the loss of his ship, the Gypsum Queen, during the Great War, was handed over to a United States marshal today, making extradition possible.

Man Rides On River in Tunnel

Casper, Wyo., May 18.—Ernest E. Roby, a highway rigger at Alcona Dam, rode the boiling North Platte River a quarter of a mile through a low diversion tunnel and emerged safely, friends disclosed today.

His wild ride, they said, occurred when a raft on which he was standing broke loose Sunday.

Roby, back at his job today, was reticent about the incident.

Waters of the river flow through the 1,400-foot tunnel while the dam is under construction.

Pacific Pact Plans Limited, Say Chinese

Shanghai, May 18.—The Chinese press today commented sympathetically on the Australian proposal, made at the Imperial Conference in London, for a Pacific non-aggression pact, but said such a pact was unlikely to provide a solution for Sino-Japanese difficulties.

The Ta Kung Pao said China had to count on itself to guarantee its integrity.

The China Times remarked China could not conclude a pact with Japan on the basis of the present territorial status quo, and that it was improbable Japan would renounce her recent territorial gains in China.

Dr. H. G. Timbres Dies in Russia

Edmonton, May 18.—Dr. Harry G. Timbres, internationally known for his brilliant work in bacteriological research, died at Kazan, Russia, May 12, according to word received here.

He was a victim of typhus contracted while carrying on anti-malarial experiments for the Tropical Institute of Moscow.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Timbres of Edmonton, he received his early education here and later graduated in medicine at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and the London School of Tropical Diseases. Before going to Russia, he spent five years in India carrying on governmental research in malarial diseases.

Sixteen Hotels Remain Closed

San Francisco, May 18.—Operators of sixteen strikebound hotels here charged coercion today as the result of union vote including office employees in negotiations. Operators have objected to preferential hiring for clerks on the ground they handled confidential work and should not be under union control.

Results of yesterday's voting showed 2,616 strikers favorable to the inclusion, and only twenty-eight desiring their exclusion.

Hotel officials expressed doubt that the Golden Gate Fiesta late this month.

Spain Cabinet Gap Unbridged

Anarcho-Syndicalists Refuse to Join Negrin's Ministry

Madrid, May 18.—Anarcho-Syndicalists refused today to co-operate with the new cabinet of Dr. Juan Negrin. Their stand overshadowed the relief of many Madrilenos that the governmental crisis, caused by the resignation of Premier Francisco Largo Caballero and his failure to bring extreme left elements into a new ministry, was solved by Negrin's "win the war" cabinet.

Concern mounted for the government's defenses against the insurgent revolt.

"The Negrin cabinet was formed without our participation and we will not collaborate with it," the national committee of the Anarcho-Syndicalist National Confederation of Labor (C.N.T.) declared.

"At the moment, we only advise the C.N.T. membership that now more than ever it must hold itself loyal to responsible (C.N.T.) committees. Let nobody act on his own account!"

Only through unity of action shall we frustrate the counter-revolution and avoid an 'embassy of Vergara'.

(This is a historic Spanish reference—meaning "peace without victory.")

London Visitors See Guards' Event

London, May 18.—Early-rising visitors had a glimpse of Britain's old-time military pageantry today when the King's guard was mounted with full ceremony on the Horse Guards' Parade.

Five hundred troops, in full dress uniforms of scarlet and blue with tall bearskins on their heads, marched and counter-marched, to the blare of bands as the colors of the regiment chosen for the day's duties at the palace were trooped.

Loud Speakers As Traffic Aid

Adelaide, South Australia, May 18.—
The Adelaide city police depart-of equipping all its patrol cars with loud speakers to be used in educating motorists and pedestrians.

The cars would tour suburban districts, with officers urging motorists and pedestrians to stop at all intersections before crossing the line of traffic.

Twofold Aim In B.C. Road Works

Gives Essential Highway Improvements and Provides Necessary Jobs, Says N. W. Whittaker; Sees Advantage to Farmers in New Trade Department

The British Columbia government's road policy has a twofold aim, to provide work and to get permanently improved highways with full value for the money spent, N. W. Whittaker, K.C., Liberal candidate in Saanich, declared at a meeting last night in Royal Oak Institute Hall.

Mr. Whittaker emphasized the need of British Columbia for good tourist roads.

With fine highways to the south the province must establish a system of hard-surface loop roads, he said.
It has the natural attractions to bring tourists, but good roads are required to keep them. In the same way improved highways were necessary to encourage British Columbians themselves to tour their own province and provide the avenues of transportation demanded by modern cars.

The candidate referred to the expenditure the government had made on improving the two main roads through Saanich, the East and West Roads. These totaled over $71,000.

he said, and had kept the two arterials in excellent shape. Part of the Gorge Road and Scott Road also came under provincial control.

"The results obtained for the money spent are quite apparent to every motorist, and do not require any explanation from me," Mr. Whittaker said.

IMPORTANT SERVICE

From the standpoint of farmers, the candidate said, the government's proposed new department of trade and industry would become an important service. Farmers today found difficulty in disposing of their surplus after demands of the local markets were met. The new department would have the function of finding new markets to afford an outlet for all that the farmers could produce.

Mr. Whittaker briefly reviewed other issues of the campaign.

He said the administration had so ably presented its case for better terms to Ottawa that an interim yearly subsidy of $750,000 a year was granted. This, he said, was the forerunner of highly important changes to follow when the national commission on taxation completed its investigation and full conference of the provinces and Dominion was held in Ottawa.

He touched on the labor policy of the government and the increase in industrial payrolls as the result of Minimum Wage Act enforcement, and gave a review of the improvements in health and welfare services during the last three years.

Osborne Criticizes Government Costs

Saanich Conservative Candidate Attacks Bills For Traveling Expenses and Health Insurance; Mc-Kelvie Disapproves Expenditures on Island

Leslie F. Osborne, Conservative candidate in Saanich, declared at a meeting in St. Luke's parish hall, Cedar Hill, last night that the government's health insurance legislation was simply a plan "to try and get from under by asking the elector what is to be done about it."

Mr. Osborne, who was supported in the platform by Bruce A. McKelvie and R. A. Woodton, criticized the high cost of the health insurance commission.

It was not fair, he said, that expenditures of $184,733.04 should be made on a scheme which never started.
Some of the employees were paid as high as $20 a day. He characterized it as a "scatter-brained idea of the Premier of this province."

Mr. Osborne, who was supported on be independent if elected and "no party whip will tell me which way to vote."

"We are passing through an era when men, women and children are in want," he declared. "They are the people I want to help, and I intend to work for their interests."

The candidate criticized government expenditures on several counts.
The per capita debt, he said, had been increased by $18, up to $203.20 since the present government took office.

TRAVELING EXPENSES
Traveling expenditures had reached a huge total. The public accounts, he said, showed a figure of $507,306 for "traveling expenses of government officials and employees" or more than the amount for old age pensions and mothers' pensions, and twice the amount placed in sinking funds during the current year.

Mr. Osborne urged the establishment of a proper forest conservation plan, declaring the forestry officials feared the depletion of timber at an early date unless something were done.

Mr. McKelvie criticized the government for announcements of expenditures on Vancouver Island. An early announcement could be expected, he said, of the building of a courthouse in Victoria.

COURTHOUSE FOR VICTORIA?
"They have already announced the building of the West Coast Road. The courthouse and the West Coast Road go together," he said. "I'll save the Premier the trouble and announce now the government has already secured the site, which makes five sites already. I wonder if he thinks he can buy the voters of Victoria with his own money?"

Considerable had been said of the government's $25,000 grant to the Victoria Jubilee celebration.

"Do they think they can buy the voters of the lower half of Vancouver Island with fireworks?" he asked.

He attacked the government on building the Pattullo bridge, for its plan to annex the Yukon and for its Special Powers Act which expired last year. He described the latter as an "abrogation of all principles of responsible government, a creation of Fascism."

Mr. Woodton outlined Conservative proposals, including the proposal to reduce the membership in the House by one-third, the fostering of cooperation between employer and employee to improve conditions for workers, removal of the civil service from politics and the promise of a highway commission.

In Mr. Osborne the Conservatives offered a young man of ability as their candidate, he said. He had been a Saanich resident all his life and keenly appreciated the needs of the riding.

years to complete.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

The appointment of the relief committee chairman and relief officer to the board of the W.C.T.U. Ida Street home was sought in a resolution passed by the City Council at its meeting last night. The council made continuation to the home, and consequently should be represented, the aldermen thought.

A glowing tribute to the excellence of the school children's "Romance of Empire" pageant, staged as a feature of the city's Coronation ceremonies, was paid by Alderman T. W. Hawkins at the council meeting last night. Teachers and others connected with the event merited highest commendation, he said.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, Alderman
James Adam and Alderman John A.
Worthington will represent Victoria at the Portland Rose Festival, and Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan will replace Alderman Archie Wills as the city's delegate to the San Francisco Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta this month. Appointment of representatives was made by the mayor last night.

Alderman James Adam will serve for the remainder of the year as the city's official representative on the board of St. Joseph's Hospital, as a result of action taken by the City Council last night.

The Crescent Canadian Shows will be requested to seek some other location than the Blanshard and Cormorant lots on which they were situated last week when they next appear in town. Protest against the noise from the carnival was voiced in a letter from the Ancient Order of Foresters read to the council last night.

Arrangements for the appearance here of Chrysler "dare-devil drivers" during July were left with the Parks committee last night. It was understood the exhibition of trick driving would be staged at the Athletic Park, for the use of which those interested in the exhibition would pay $125.

The City Council last night referred to its anniversary committee a communication from J. Hayward regarding the part played by Mrs. F.
W. Horne, born here in 1854, in the city's history.

An invitation will be sent to United Commercial Travelers of America, meeting shortly in Bellingham, to make Victoria their convention city for 1938. The invitation will go forward from the City Council.

Printing of the annual financial report of the city was authorized by the council last night on the recommendation of the finance committee.
The council also authorized a grant of $75 to the Dr. O. M. Jones chapter of the I.O.D.E. milk fund. On the same committee's recommendation the council engaged James Burden as caretaker of the Ogden Point grain elevator.

The sale of five city lots and demolition of four dilapidated buildings was authorized by the City Council last night on the recommendation of the lands committee.
Earlier in the meeting the city allowed sale of its equity in another property, and approved disposal of two lots at Sidney.

Leave of absence without pay was granted R. E. Ford, on the recommendation of the city public works executive, by the council last night.
The same committee was supported in a move to construct a gravel footpath on a section of Pembroke Street.

The city purchasing agent was ordered to call for tenders for firemen's clothing, hose connections and nozzles by the City Council last night.

On the recommendation of Alderman John Worthington, one-man cemetery committee, the week ending June 29 was set aside by the City Council for a campaign to improve the appearance of Ross Bay Cemetery.

If the wishes of the city park superintendent are observed, the section of Beacon Hill Park, formerly used for Rebel Mowatt's baseball games will not be in use this summer. Alderman James Adam, parks committee chairman, stated the superintendent was averse to undan-gering the turf through use this year.
The matter came up after Alderman Adam had requested the council to pay a special visit to Beacon Hill Park on the evening of May 26 to see the illuminations placed in that area.

Dues of $58 were ordered paid by the City Council for membership in the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities last night.

Australia Sells Wheat to Italy wealth bureau of statistics today ranked Italy as Australia's second best wheat buying customer. The Mediterranean nation ran Great Britain a close race for first place, leaving Japan far behind in third position.

In December and January, Italy's two-month total was 4,574,265 bushels, only 90,000 bushels behind Great Britain's 4,663,068. Japan purchased 1,294,140 bushels.

WARRANTS WITHDRAWN

Vancouver, May 18.—Bench warrants for four unemployed relief camp men who failed to appear in court a week ago to faces charges of obstructing police were withdrawn yesterday when it was learned they had returned to the forestry camp at Squamish. The men were arrested after a begging campaign staged on city streets eleven days ago. The warrants were issued when they failed to appear in court after being

Man Acquitted Of Shooting Charge

New Westminster, May 18.—John

the death of Clement Robert Stone

Evidence showed Mrs. Vipond had been frightened on occasions prior to the shooting by a prowler about whom police had received many com-

Two witnesses described finding the body of Stone lying on the ground after he had been shot with a sixteen-gauge gun.

Confirmation At St. Andrew's

The solemn novena to the Holy Ghost at St. Andrew's Cathedral concluded on Pentecost Sunday with Pontifical High Mass at 11 o'clock chanted by His Lordship the Bishop of Victoria. Assisting him were arch-priest Rev. J. A. Gaudette, Deacon Rev. C. T. Albury, Sub-deacon E. Sobry, Deacons of Honor Rev. P. J. Albert, S.M.M., and Rev. L. Bourque, master of ceremonies, Rev. Th. Geukens.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. A. Gaudette, after which Bishop Cody imparted the papal blessing to all present.

An exceptionally large concourse of people attended the evening service at 7.30 when confirmation was administered to twenty-one children and six adults. This was the first time in his career that His Excellency Bishop Cody gave confirmation, the first child confirmed being John Joseph Crossley. He was assisted by Rev. J. A. Gaudette, Rev. C. T. Albury and Rev. Th. Geukens of the cathedral staff. Rev. A. E. W. Wood of Our Lady of Peace, Esquimalt, assisted in the sanctuary. The official sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. A. St. Martin. Mrs. W. P. Regan attended to the floral decorations for the occasion.

In the early part of the 18th century, leaves of the finest ferns were made of "chicken skin," which was not chicken skin at all, but the skin of the youngest of small animals. The best ferns were made of the skins of unborn animals.

NEW GENERAL MOTORS HEAD

J. N. Lister Appointed Manager of Vancouver Zone; Has Had Wide Experience

Appointment of J. N. Lister to be manager of the Vancouver zone is announced by C. E. McTavish, general sales manager of General Motors Products of Canada Limited.

Mr. Lister's transfer brings him back to the coast after an absence of ten years, during which he has filled a number of responsible positions in the General Motors sales organization, chiefly in the Toronto zone. His previous experience included connection with retail automobile firms in Vancouver.

The Vancouver appointment coincides with other changes in the company's sales organization, chief of which is the centralization at Regina of all operations for western Canada. E. R. Birchard, recently assistant general sales manager at Oshawa, becomes regional manager at Regina besides the Vancouver zone.

Office sales offices are set up at Calgary and Winnipeg, with C. P. Johnson and John Ross respectively in charge. W. D. Fielding of Winnipeg is transferred to Montreal zone as assistant manager. The existing parts depots in western offices are retained. The executive staff at Regina will include A. H. Brett, assistant manager; A. Cummings, service manager; F. Webster, business management manager; P. D. McTavish, parts and accessory manager, and A. H. Fortin, car distributor.

No Signs Of Lost Indian

Continuous dragging operations during the last week have failed to disclose any sign of Jacob Chipps, aged west coast Indian, who is believed to have drowned in Esquimalt waters last week.

On Sunday Louis de Costa Sr., veteran diver, made several attempts to locate the body in Esquimalt Harbor, going down at Bay's Landing and at the end of the government wharf. The Indian was lost when his dug-out is believed to have capsized while he was on his way from Constance Cove to the Indian Reserve. Dragging operations have been conducted all week.

Fishermen in the area were requested by Esquimalt police to keep a lookout for the body and report any discovery to Esquimalt headquarters.

It has been estimated that the average man in a city breathes a pound of dust in a year.

B.C.'S TRIBUTE TO BRIDGE JOB

Premier Sends Illuminated Parchment to San Francisco Fiesta

A sublime conception. A triumph of engineering skill. A notable contribution to the cause of human progress.

This is British Columbia's tribute to the huge Golden Gate bridge, spanning the entrance to San Francisco harbor, which will be opened at a fiesta late this month.

In a beautifully illuminated parchment addressed to Mayor Angelo Rossi of San Francisco from British Columbia's Premier Pattullo this message will be conveyed by G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.P., who will represent the provincial government at the bridge opening.

The parchment was completed yesterday and approved by the Premier. It carries the provincial crest and a minute water color painting of the Legislative Buildings, excellently done by H. M. Wright, and the Premier's message lettered by Leslie Hooper, both of the Department of Lands.

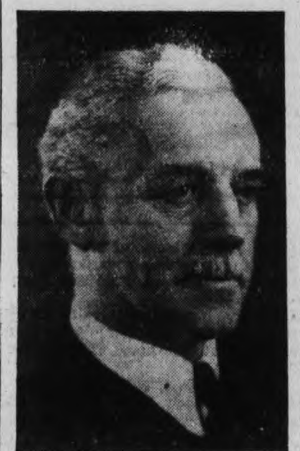

Following is the complete text: "The people of British Columbia join warmly in your jubiliations upon the opening of the Golden Gate bridge.

"This bridge is not only a sublime conception and a triumph of engineering skill, but also a notable contribution to the cause of human progress. In this modern world of life and movement it may truly be said that the extent and frequency of its roads and bridges is an infallible index of the people's progress.

"May I extend to you, sir, and through you to the people of San Francisco and California, the cordial congratulations and felicitations of the people of British Columbia."

Mr. McGeer will present the parchment to Mayor Rossi at the fiesta. He will leave Vancouver May 22.

CLUB HEARS OF CHARITY WORK

Aims of Victoria Foundation Told to Gyros By Capt. B. J. Gadsden

The aims of the Victoria Foundation, incorporated last year to unify charitable gifts and bequests, were outlined to the Gyro Club at its luncheon yesterday in a brief address by Captain Burgess J. Gadsden, manager of the Spashine Inn.

Captain Gadsden read the constitution of the foundation and quoted from newspaper articles in connection with it.

"Genuine charity is a beautiful thing, and pays great dividends to the giver," he commented. Entitling his address "The Other Fellow," Captain Gadsden spoke briefly of the fellowships which sprang up during the Great War, and which continued, without distinction of rank, after it.

As an example of charity he looked back to the parable of the Good Samaritan, then said: "In those days charity was the act of the individual. Now an impersonal mechanism has arisen between the giver and the receiver... Charity has become big business."

It was because of its growth in this direction that such agencies as the Victoria Foundation were necessary to ensure the fullest usefulness of gifts.

Captain Gadsden was introduced by Harold Butterfield and thanked by Everett Taylor.

George H. Morgan was introduced as a new member of the club.

Members of the Hollywood Club, at their annual meeting in St. Matthias' Hall Friday night, elected Albert Bevan president of the organization and Marjorie Todd vice-president. Other officers appointed for the ensuing year were: Roy Bishop, treasurer; Miss Evelyn Todd, secretary; chairman of social committee, Miss Jean Tuthill; chairman of sports committee, Leonard Passmore; chairman of membership committee, James Gardiner and Miss Florence Siddis; and chairman of ways and means committee, William Van Druten. It was decided to hold a dance on Tuesday, June 1, at the Palais de Danse.

Varsity Club Names New Officers

Mrs. Harry H. Smith President; Miss Newman Speaks

Mrs. Harry L. Smith was elected president of the University Women's Club at its annual meeting and dinner held last night in the Duke of Kent private dining-room at the Empress Hotel. Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Mrs. Hazel Rodson; second vice-president, Miss Mary Scott; recording secretary, Miss Margaret Crumney; corresponding secretary, Miss Ruth Fields; treasurer, Miss Eugene Cantwell; executive, Miss Lola Worthington; Miss Lola Maxwell and Mrs. J. C. P. Hyndman.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Dr. Olga Jardine, the retiring president, in her resume of the year's accomplishments, noted with satisfaction that the club had initiated evening programmes by the members themselves. She hoped that the study clubs would start earlier in the season. Mention was also made of the disposition of the club bursaries, and in this connection thanks were expressed to Mrs. H. E. Young for opening her home for the club's bridge-tee, by which part of the bursary fund had been raised. Another hostess to whom the club was indebted was Mrs. A. W. McCurdy. Reference was made to Miss Emily Carr, honorary member, to whom a letter of sympathy in her illness will be sent.

Miss Mary Scott, the retiring secretary, reported the club's membership as seventy-three, with seven honorary and four associate members. The treasurer, Mrs. Oscar Lucas, submitted a report. As the funds were low, a subscription was taken up among the members towards the financing of the Pan-Pacific conference in July at Vancouver, this amounting to $27.60.

The club accepted an invitation from Mrs. McCurdy to pay its annual visit to her home, "Malahat Park," on Saturday, June 5.

GUEST SPEAKER

Miss Laura Newman, president of the Canadian Federation of University Women, was the guest speaker and gave her impressions of the International Conference held in Cracow, Poland. At this great gathering, 60,000 university women from thirty-seven countries had been represented, Canada sending twelve delegates. The new international president is Dean Gildersleeve, head of Barnard College, Columbia University.

Miss Newman touched upon the highlights of the discussions, one question being how to make the rising generation more internationally minded. This brought up the question as to whether the education of youth should follow the line of shaping toward the democratic ideal or toward dictatorship.

She also noted that the conference showed concern over the revived discrimination against women or the "anti-feminist reaction." This was a matter of greater concern in Europe than in the Western World. Miss Newman expressed the view that, generally speaking, the conference felt that if civilization was to be developed on sound lines, women as well as men would have to play their part in public life and the study of social and political questions.

At the close of her address, the speaker was presented with a beautiful bouquet on behalf of the club.

MUSICAL NUMBERS

Mrs. Allon Peabees, ably supported at the piano by Mrs. John Gough, sang with much taste two groups of songs, "Le Printemps" (Gounod), "Je N'ai Plus au Bois" (Weckerlin), "The Indian Maid" (Coleridge Taylor), and "The Maid Sings Light" (Macdowell).

At the close of the evening, the new president was escorted to the chair by two charter members of the club, Dr. Helen Ryan and Mrs. H. E. Young.

Dr. Jardine, the retiring president, was presented by Miss Dorothy Hay, on behalf of the members, with a sheaf of antirrhinum, blue delphiniums, baby gladioli and mauve stocks. Among the special guests were Mrs. R. F. Green and Dr. Randall-Colyer of Sydney, Australia.

About seventy-five attended the dinner, the tables being attractively centred with blue kamias and yellow tulips, and blue and gold tapers, reflecting the club colors.

To Mr. Arthur Lantow, who was married recently, a bridge lamp was presented, and to his bride a corsage bouquet of roses, and to Mrs. L. G. White, a former member of the choir, a pair of gloves was presented in recognition of her services to the choir. V.O.N. Want $200,000 For Work

Lady Tweedsmuir Appeals For Nursing Order

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 18.—Appeal of Lady Tweedsmuir for $200,000 in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses continues open and will remain so for some months, it was learned here today. Her Excellency launched her campaign six weeks ago. The response has been gratifying, but the objective has not been reached.

The money for which Lady Tweedsmuir is appealing is urgently needed "to meet the cry of those districts without any nursing care," a member of the Government House staff said today. Headquarters of the V.O.N. have received application for fifteen districts requiring a resident nurse and of these only five have been supplied.

Donations have been received from the wives of two former Governors-General, the Marchioness of Willingdon and the Countess of Bessborough. An impression a larger fund already exists to be drawn from is erroneous, it was declared. While in the past campaigns have been conducted on behalf of the order the money collected is held in trust and the principal can not be drawn on to cover annual expenses.

Last year the V.O.N. cared for 83,374 patients in Canada, making 751,350 visits, 439,789 of them free. The number of maternity and infant well-fare visits was 404,818. The order has seventy-eight local branches across the Dominion and employs 343 registered nurses.

Lady Tweedsmuir asks that contributions be sent to her direct.

WHAT PRICE HEALTH?

MANY years ago I said this... "If I could put my principles of health in pill form—so that people only had to swallow them to be healthy—I would be richer than Henry Ford in six months."

But it can't be done!

You can't play the piano without practising. You can't have strong, vigorous, tireless and agile muscles without exercising—you can't be always youthful, full of mental and physical energy and ambition and exuberantly healthy, full of pep and the joy of living unless you are prepared to pay the price of right (righteous) living habits.

Don't attempt this unless you are in A1 condition.

Ask your better self "What is the price of perfect health?"; then listen to the "still small voice" within you for the answer. The Answer? The price of health lies in doing certain things and in not doing other things. In other words, obey the health laws of Nature and of common sense.

These laws include a daily cool water bath, cool air bath, sun bath, exercise of all muscle groups for at least fifteen minutes, avoidance of all habits that do not add something of body normalizing value to the blood; evacuation of the intestinal waste after each meal by the use of correct foods and exercise; sufficient sleep, but not too much, in a well-ventilated room; and a poised, hopeful, optimistic mental state.

Based upon the foregoing principles, I started at 50 to rebuild a hopelessly broken and decrepit body. In my 80th year I have a body that ought to be the envy of 98% of men in their twenties. At 71 I started a new career and have made a striking success of it already. Are such accomplishments worth while? Again let the "still small voice" answer. The proper way to start? A real health education. Write for particulars re my books that provide it.

Not interested? Well, "it's O.K. with me." I lose nothing by your decision. But let me urge you to make these small changes in your living habits for just one month, then

I often do this "balancing act" on the lecture platform.

I'm sure you'll want to go the limit and learn how to live so as to be always in the condition outlined in the second paragraph of this article.

Eat one full meal, all you can enjoy, of Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy or Lishus; one full meal of vegetables grown above the ground, raw or very lightly steamed (preferably raw); a third meal of anything reasonable in food. Chew all foods well. Exercise and follow the routine outlined in paragraph three of this article. If you do not know how to exercise send 50c for my book "SYSTEMATIZED MUSCLE EXERCISES" (illustrated). In any case, write for my free bulletins on food and health. Address: Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., 577 Vine Ave., Toronto, Ont.

The photographs in this advertisement are taken from the famous picture "One Young Man," featuring a day in the life of Dr. Jackson.

U.S. Women Lawyers Busy

Government Has 100 Experts Handling Its Work

Washington, May 18.—The United States government's women lawyers deal with everything from municipal bonds to foreign affairs.

They may mask their brains with pretty faces, but they draw their pay because they are experts on such things as marketing agreements, taxes and court-martial orders. More than 100 women are employed in government departments and bureaus as attorneys. An estimated 200 others with legal degrees do related work, though not under legal classification.

Many are veterans. A few are girls just out of law school. They make from $2,000 to about $6,000 a year. A few, like Miss Helen Cartoos of the Justice Department, travel all of the country arguing Uncle Sam's cases before high courts. Her briefs identify her as a special assistant to the Attorney-General, handling important tax suits.

Miss Anna O'Neill, known for her Irish wit, writes opinions on international law for the state department, where four of the twenty-three attorneys in that type of work are women.

Miss Elizabeth Rountree is only thirty, but she has won praise for her work at the public works administration, judging eligibility and legality of proceedings involving municipal co-operation.

Another who appears in district and circuit courts is Mrs. Mary Connor Myers, who handles marketing agreements and orders of the Secretary of Agriculture regulating agricultural commodities in interstate commerce.

Native Daughters

Mrs. James Brown was formally installed as Chief Factor of Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia, at the annual installation ceremony held last night in the K. of C. Hall, Government Street.

The installation ceremony was performed by Miss J. Nicholson of Port Alberni, Grand Chief Factor, assisted by Miss A. Morrison of Ladysmith, Grand chief secretary, who, with five members of the Ladysmith Post, were special guests for the occasion. Bruce McKelvie, Grand Factor of the Native Sons, was present and spoke during the evening, and addresses were given by Miss Nicholson and Miss Morrison.

Members of Post No. 1, Native Sons of B.C., were also guests of the post. The Grand Chief Factor and Grand Chief secretary were presented with charming gifts and corsage bouquets following their addresses. Past Chief Jean Lorimer also presented Mrs. Brown with a lovely bouquet, who in turn presented Miss Lorimer with a beautiful sheaf of flowers. Mrs. T. P. Waters, a former Past Chief Factor, was formally presented with the past chief factor's jewel.

At the close of the formal programme, a sit-down supper was served in the banquet hall. The tables were beautifully decorated with pansies and other flowers, and dainty hand-painted place cards marked the seats of the guests of honor.

In charge of the supper arrangements were Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, Mrs. T. P. Waters, Mrs. F. Webb, Mrs. J. Lorimer, Miss B. Wilson, Mrs. J. King, Mrs. C. Davies and the Misses Margaret Andrews, Allison Chow and Etta Neelands. A social hour brought a most successful evening to a close.

Ascot Gowns Wintry In Style

Coronation Shoes
And Flowers
On Bathing Suits

London—Dress designers seem to be preparing for a wintry Ascot this year. Thick furs and wool-lace, instead of chiffon as tradition demands, are being used by several designers for their Ascot gowns.

One I saw at Hartnell's this week was in sage-green wool crepe with a hip-length jacket. It was trimmed with huge squirrel revers going right over the shoulder and forming two fur panels down the centre of the back. Another gown—all white—had long sleeves trimmed with four-inch wide cuffs of white fox.

A grey dress had a matching hat in the shape of a plate on which were perched two saucy pink doves.

For those who like to wear filmy prints no matter what the weather, there are many lovely creations—all ankle-length.

A deep blue and rose printed chiffon dress with a plain blue skirt and a crepe dress the color of Parma violets are two which are modeled on the Queen's clothes. Blues, pinks and pastel shades are her favorite colors and, as a compliment to her first Ascot as Queen, most dresses will be in these tints.

Evening gowns will be more sophisticated. One model I saw this week was all white crepe, backless and low-cut at the front. With it, the blonde mannequin wore a scarlet ostrich feather cape reaching to her waist in the front and dipping down at the back.

Another white dress had long sleeves embroidered with butterflies in black and jade at the cuffs and on the bodice. It had a jade chignon sash to match.

In contrast to the debutante dresses of crisp net—pink, spotted, beige and white and silver—there were dresses and coats ablaze with glittering sequins.

On bathing costumes, flowers are woven into the fabric in brightly-colored wools. Hibiscus blooms, passion flowers, lotus buds, marigolds and forget-me-nots are the most popular.

In design, the suits are startlingly original. One I saw displayed this week was a deep mulberry shade trimmed with plaited straps of turquoise blue. It was cut very low at the back and the sides were slashed to resemble trellis-work. Another green suit had a pattern of violet stars on the front while a cherry-red one was slit up one leg to the waist and laced with black cord.

Most daring of all, is a Coronation mode in which a red-white-and-blue costume was shown with a brasserie top and abbreviated skirt. In the middle of her bare back, the mannequin had painted a Coronation flag—red, white and blue—with a portrait of the King and Queen in the middle.

SHOES GO PATRIOTIC

Shoes, too, have caught the patriotic fever. In Piccadilly are seen court shoes in the Coronation blue (rather bright blue) glaze kid adorned with two white and two red bows. More original were court shoes in black suede with a high Spanish heel. They were strapped across the instep and, instead of being fastened with the usual buckle, they had long dagger-like gilt clips attached to a chain. The shoes were fastened by slipping the dagger through a gilt crown.

Sandals and tennis shoes show the same imperial spirit. Red, white and blue binding and little stencilled crowns are two forms of decoration. Some sandals are also made up of plaited straw, some strands red, others white and the rest blue.

Evening bags made of wine-red velvet trimmed with luscious ermine were the choice for court balls. Their handles are a thick gold chain. Others, all-white diamonds, are ornamented with a tiny crown and "G" in one corner or with a design composed of empire emblems.

Aged Woman Had Cash, But Starved

Vallejo, Calif., May 18.—Police, called by alarmed neighbors, broke into the home of two aged sisters yesterday, found one of them dead, apparently from starvation, and reported the discovery of cash and evidence of other wealth that totaled $100,000.

The older sister, Miss Alice Murphy, eighty-five, had been dead three or four days. Officers found Miss Sarah Murphy, seventy-six, lying unconscious on a bed in the same room.

There was no food in the house and neighbors said the sisters apparently had not purchased any groceries for more than two weeks.

The sisters had been recluses for years.

Guests staying recently at the Forest Inn, Shawanigan Lake, include Mrs. H. G. Hinton and son, Mr. Chas. A. Sutherland, Mrs. Thompson Kirby, Miss J. I. Kynoch, Miss B. Nicol and Miss J. R. WORK-AND-EAT PLAN STARTED

Production-for-use Group
Launches Scheme Near Seattle

Seattle, May 18.—Two thousand self-styled "work-and-eaters," members of the first "pure" production-for-use project began work today tilling 300 acres of farm land.

The self-aid group planned to work in return for their own vegetables—enough to furnish them a solid year.

"Each 'work-and-eater' will work twelve and a half hours during the season on the farm. In return he will receive four pounds of potatoes and three pounds of other vegetables each week throughout the year," the project's sponsor, Cyrus E. Woodward, president of the Production-for-use Association, said. Woodward is a past president of the Washington Commonwealth Federation, a production-for-use organization.

Seed and modern farm machinery were purchased for the project from a twenty-five-cent registration fee required of each project member.

BUSINESS MEN JOIN
Woodward said that in addition to persons on relief, business and professional men "sympathetic toward the idea" had joined the project.

Turning the employed members "work-and-siders," Woodward said, they would work the required number of hours, but would donate their vegetables to charity.

He said the project would not compete with commerce because no money would change hands. No county or federal funds would be used, he said, nor would the produce reach the open market.

"Workers will be provided food at an investment of labor alone," he said. The 140 acres of land were given the project by the King County commissioners. Another 160 acres in Kitsap County was also given.

Woodward said the project would start paying "dividends" in the early fall.

HIT-RUN VICTIM

Vancouver, May 18.—Ben York, a negro, was in the General Hospital today in a serious condition with a fracture of the skull as the result of being struck last night by an automobile whose driver failed to stop. Police learned York was assisting William James, a blind man, across a residential street when he was struck by the car. James was not struck.

CANADA DEPORTS MAN TO GERMANY

Quebec, May 18.—Jacob Hayum, a German Jew, was deported to Germany aboard the liner Aurania Saturday night, immigration officials disclosed here yesterday.

His return to Germany was ordered after a board of inquiry had found Hayum had sought entry to Canada as a visitor only as a pretext to cover a purpose of residing permanently in the country.

Hayum had intended proceeding to the Pacific Coast where, he told officials, arrangements were being made for him to marry a woman residing there. Had this marriage been solemnized, Hayum's deportation could not have been proceeded with.

TRIAL ENDS IN ACQUITTAL

Winnipeg, May 18.—Robert G. Barton, charged with manslaughter following the death of his wife in an automobile accident, was acquitted yesterday by an assize jury. Mrs. Barton was fatally injured February 6, when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, struck a truck on Portage Avenue.

SAY SOCIALISM IS SOLUTION

Progress of the Liberal government in British Columbia was best measured by the debt this government had created, declared T. Guy Sheppard, C.C.F. candidate in Sanich, at a meeting in St. Michael's Hall, Royal Oak, yesterday evening.

The speaker compared the government's progress with the pace of a slow train from which the passengers could not only pick flowers but could plant the seeds and watch them grow.

Of Social Credit he said it comprised a new combination of old capitalist materials. Progressive Socialism, he contended, could not be turned back, and the C.C.F. had put the wheels of Socialism in motion.

Supporting Mr. Sheppard on the platform were Miss Lillian Thompson, Vancouver, and J. H. McIntosh, Keating.

Miss Thompson spoke on the youth movement in Vancouver, and spoke of the wasted life of a whole generation during old party regimes. She could not see betterment for youth's conditions under the capitalist system.

Mr. McIntosh said it would be impossible to absorb unemployed workers who had been replaced by machinery under the present system, and urged that a change to Socialism offered the only solution.

Alfred Kellow presided.

British Music Will Be Played

During the recent Coronation celebrations, both in Great Britain and Victoria, efforts were made to stimulate the interest of the public in music by British composers.

The music sung at the service in Westminster Abbey covered the period from Tudor times to the present day and proved what a real contribution British composers have made to the world.

Next Sunday being Empire Sunday, a twilight organ recital will be given in the First Baptist Church from 7 to 7:30 o'clock by J. Smith, the acting organist. The programme will include works by representative British composers.

The programme will be as follows: "Trumpet Tune and Air," Henry Purcell; "Idyll," Edward Elgar; "Air and Variations," W. T. Best; "Chorale Prelude on 'Lovely,' C. Vaughan Williams; Prelude on 'Mscumbe,' C. H. Farry; Postlude 'Allegro in G,' C. Villiers Stanford.

At the morning service the organ numbers will include works by Henry Smart and S. S. Wesley.

CHAPTER XIV

Eastman High School was located in one of the quiet suburban sections of the city of Seattle. It was an attractive building, designed along English Tudor lines, and its walls were covered with ivy a generation old. Well-kept grounds surrounded it on all sides. To one side of the building, a lovely miniature lake mirrored the reflection of old-world towers.

Although not a private school, it reflected the atmosphere of a small, exclusive junior college. Situated, as it was, in a good residential district, its young people came from nice homes and moderately well-to-do, substantial parents. The entire student body had never numbered more than 600, and there was a close neighborliness between faculty and pupils.

For more than thirty years, Amanda Greeley had reigned over Eastman High as its principal. For ten years previous to that—from the very day the school had first opened its doors—she had taught there. The school was her life; into it she had woven all her hopes and dreams and ambitions. Its students were her children, and she cherished their interests as closely as she guarded her own integrity.

She was a strong, brilliant woman. In her fine brown eyes there still shone courage and vitality and determination, though she was nearing seventy years of age. The blood of pioneers ran in her veins: her own mother and father had come to Seattle in a covered wagon when the country was yet a wilderness. Her father had helped to build the first school house, and her mother had been its first teacher. Amanda Greeley clung to their traditions.

It was her boast that she remembered every young person who ever passed a term in the school; even now, as she walked the four blocks from the school to her home, she could meet grown men and women on the street and unhesitatingly call them by their first names, as she had thirty-odd years before.

So, this morning it was interesting to have this young man from the East call on her for information about Joan Barrett.

Of course she remembered Joan Barrett. The girl spent two years in Eastman, and the school had never seen a finer student. A lovely young girl she was, pretty as a picture, well-mannered, thoughtful and courteous to her elders.

Miss Greeley recalled particularly the circumstances under which she had left the school. She had disappeared overnight, without any explanation, without any request for transfer, without any word at all. It was not until the next meeting of the Mothers' Club that Miss Greeley learned of the unfortunate tragedy that had touched the girl's life.

There were in the Mothers' Club a few foolish members whose tongues flew faster than their thoughts, and they had raised their voices in outraged indignation that their children had been exposed to such an unpleasant contact. The daughter of a murderer!

But Miss Greeley had silenced them, once and for all. She had delivered a hearty eulogy on the character and ability of Joan Barrett; she had sent the women home not a little ashamed of themselves, and not a little sorry that their own children had suffered by comparison with this outcast child.

Now Miss Greeley looked severely at Philip Hendry.

"Just what did you want to learn about Joan Barrett?" she demanded again.

Philip squirmed under her piercing gaze.

"Something about her character, I should say," he replied, bestowing, with an effort, one of his most gracious smiles upon her. "My uncle has taken a great fancy to her, and naturally we are a little interested in her background."

"Why?"

Philip took out a cigarette, proceeded to light it.

"My uncle," he said, "is a very wealthy man. We thought—in the event—He waved the cigarette expressively in the air, apropos of nothing.

Miss Greeley's severity increased. She did not like young men who smoked without first asking permission.

"You thought?" she prompted.

"Well—in the event that he might wish to remember Miss Barrett in his will—he would, of course, want to know more about her."

"Your uncle sent you here to make these inquiries?"

Philip flushed uneasily.

"Yes," he replied, a little hesitantly. "That is—in a way, my uncle sent me."

"I do not understand you, young man. Did your uncle send you or not?"

"Well—not exactly—"

"I see. Suppose then, you leave your uncle's name and address with me and I will mail him a formal report within a few days."

Philip fidgeted in his chair. This was becoming an ordeal. Curse Sybil and her silly suspicions, anyway.

"My uncle would prefer," he replied, brightening as he suddenly thought of a plausible answer. "If I brought him the report personally, Miss Barrett, as I explained, is his confidential secretary. Any report coming through the mails would naturally fall into her hands first. He does not wish to embarrass her, of course."

"Of course."

Miss Greeley pressed a buzzer on her desk. A moment later a young woman stepped into her office.

"Miss Baldwin, will you bring me the record card of Joan Barrett, class of 1927?"

"Yes, Miss Greeley."

Philip looked after Miss Baldwin approvingly. Why the devil hadn't he asked for Miss Greeley's secret instead of the old Amazon herself? He waited in uncomfortable silence until Miss Baldwin returned. He scanned Miss Greeley's desk for some sort of ash receiver; seeing none, he pinched his cigarette butt and threw it into the waste basket. She watched him do this, offering no solution to his dilemma, and her eyes followed the flight of the cigarette into her basket with obvious disapproval.

To Philip it seemed an age before Miss Baldwin returned with the desired information.

"Thank you, Miss Baldwin. I shall return this to you later," Miss Greeley took the card and studied it carefully for a moment.

Name Players to Train For Charlton Visit

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

FOR THE SECOND successive season Victoria football forces have brought home the championship of Vancouver Island. On Sunday at Nanaimo a weakened Victoria United tackled the Coal City eleven and handed it an odd-goal setback on the hardpan of the Central Sports grounds. And anybody that has any doubt about that word "hardpan" should just walk over the up-island pitch. Any number of the local players brought back from Nanaimo good-sized "strawberries" as the result of going down.

But what a different attitude among the Nanaimo footballers and spectators as compared to the old days. The great soccer enthusiasm that once existed in the lively up-island centre is missing. Of course the calibre of football of the Nanaimo players has gone back and the present eleven cannot be compared with the teams of a few years back. Take Sunday for instance. The up-islanders had Uke Grey, one of the best inside forwards in the province, on the wing. Jimmy Knight, a half-back who ranks with the finest in British Columbia, was on the forward line. Nanaimo football suffered a tremendous blow with the death of the dashing Daisy Waugh and it has not recovered yet.

However, we must pay credit to Victoria United for its sparkling victory. When one considers that the local squad does not play together as a unit every week and that Saturday after Saturday its various players are opposing each other as members of their respective clubs their play as the United is mighty good. Take all these boys and put them together in one team for an entire season, with a game every week, then Victoria would have a soccer machine that could whip anything in the province with ease.

Two members of Canada's Olympic track team last year at Berlin came together as opponents for the first time on Saturday afternoon at Pullman, Washington, when the University of Washington and Washington State College met in an intercollegiate competition. The stars were Bruce Humber, Victoria, and Lee Orr, Vancouver. Both ran for Canada in the sprint events at the Olympics.

Saturday Orr turned on the heat and walked away with all the honors. In the century dash the Vancouver speedster, wearing the colors of Washington State, romped the distance in 9.8 seconds, to be followed by Ledford, another W.S.C. boy, and Humber. Orr again stepped out in front to win the "220" in the fast time of 21 seconds flat. Humber took another third place, finishing behind Ledford. Orr topped off his afternoon's performance by helping the W.S.C. relay squad win the mile relay for a new northwest record—3:14. Orr was high individual point man for the meet with eleven and a quarter points.

Henry (Hank) Prusoff, ranking Seattle tennis player who was forced out of action last year through an injured back suffered in an elevator accident, has announced his return to active duty on the courts. Prusoff is reported completely recovered from his injuries. Victorians will welcome the news as Prusoff has treated local galleries to some fine exhibitions with his bullet-like service and dynamic cross-court fire in local tournaments. He was always a pleasing player to watch.

Following his smashing victory over Frankie Battaglia, Freddie Steele, Tacoma, holder of the world middle-weight boxing championship, is being flooded with offers. The latest is one from Paris for Steele to engage in a title bout with Marcel Thil, recognized in Europe as world champion. Steele is smart, though. He will not accept a bout with Thil unless Jack Dempsey is named as referee and Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring magazine, as one of the judges. Thil has always been given the edge in Paris. He will not leave the French metropolis for an important bout and in Paris there is little chance of beating him. Gorilla Jones and Lou Brouillard both knocked out Thil only to find themselves accused of fouling and victory awarded the Frenchman.

Longworth Wins Golf Playoff

Tacoma, Wash., May 18.—A twenty-five-foot putt that circled the cup and bounced out again yesterday defeated Harry Givan, Seattle, and gave Ted Longworth, Portland professional, a victory in the Pacific Northwest qualifying round for the national open golf championship.

The putt that Givan missed came as the two were playing off a tie on the thirty-seventh hole of the tournament. Longworth, whose approach was six feet away from the pin, sank his putt to win.

Golf Caddies Strike

Paris, May 18.—Golf enthusiasts, for the third successive day, wearily admitted today it's a long course that has no caddy, as a strike for better wages continued on a number of France's most important links.

Things were proceeding in slow gear at the St. Cloud Country Club, where the movement broke out Sunday, with the youngsters letting balls stay lost and bags lie while authorities sought to solve the problem.

Suspend Player For Two Games

George Robertson, shortstop for Kents in the A. division, was handed a two-game suspension yesterday evening when officials of the Lower Island Softball Association met at the Y.M.C.A. in a special session to take drastic action to hold players under control during future games.

During the last week's game with Painter's Bruins Robertson strongly objected to the decision of the base umpire, and was finally ordered to the sidelines when he wanted to show force to strengthen his objections.

Bob Mair of the Palais de Danse team in C section was given a one-game suspension for playing in the A division without a transfer.

LACROSSE BOX TO OPEN SOON

Will Start Work on Structure at Athletic Park Within Few Days

Vigorians were virtually assured of seeing a lacrosse league functioning here this summer when Byron "Boss" Johnson, M.P.P., and well-known sports enthusiast, today announced that a box will be constructed within a week or so at the Athletic Park.

H. B. Sargison, secretary, reports that the commission which has been struck to govern lacrosse activities in Victoria has been debating the possibility of having a senior loop performance in the first season. It is doubtful at present whether or not older boys will battle it out for honors, although two teams have already been promised.

However, an intermediate division will be operated. Sargison intimated that four entries have already been filed for participation in this division. The commission, which consists of W. C. Moresby, K.C. Everett Taylor, Johnny Johnson, Tommy Rickinson and H. B. Sargison, is working on the rules and regulations under which lacrosse will be run in Victoria.

WALLACE LOSES DOMINION TITLE

Vancouver Holder of Canadian Welterweight Boxing Crown Drops Ten-round Decision to Frankie Genovese, Toronto Italian; Three Judges Cast Votes For Easterner

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 18.—On the head of Frankie Genovese, young Toronto Italian, today rested the Canadian welterweight crown Vancouver's Gordon Wallace wore for five years. Thanks to his good left hand, Genovese last night won a decision over the east veteran in ten rounds, only thrilling in spots to 4,000 faithful. After all three judges gave Genovese the nod, Wallace promised he'd come back. "I wasn't really hurt," he said, "and I'm looking for another crack at the crown." Genovese, who had made a strong finish and was practically unmarked, was too excited to say anything.

The final round was the most exciting with Wallace hanging on at the bell. While the dark-haired Italian used a slugging left through most of the bout, he opened up with a two-fisted attack in the tenth, shooting at Wallace's bleeding face.

Genovese weighed 14½, a half-pound more than Wallace, and forced the fighting most of the way. Both fighters were warned for low blows and the middle rounds were slowed by clinches and infighting.

DESPERATE RALLY
Seeing his title going glimmering, Wallace staged a belated rally in the eighth for his best round. His left twice found the Italian's stomach and before the round ended the champion rocked Genovese with a crushing left to the chin.

In the ninth the youthful challenger showed superior endurance and his rushing, bruising tactics wore Wallace down. He finished fast, cutting the champion's face with two rights and carried the battle into the final round.

Sammy Luftspring, who holds two decisions over Genovese is now demanding a chance at the crown. Wallace was brought east by Manager Jack Allen to fight Luftspring and won a recent decision over the Toronto fighter in a title go.

Chicago, May 18.—War Admiral, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, was entered yesterday in the $25,000 Added American Derby to be decided at Washington Park on June 19. The distance is one mile and a quarter.

Boston, May 18.—Unable to show his best form for the Boston Race, Frank McGowan, thirty-five-year-old outfielder, has been returned to the Buffalo Bisons, from whom he was obtained on trial.

Defend Principles Of Social Credit

Norman Jacques, M.P., and Victoria Candidates Address Meeting

Asking as axioms that interest was a profit on an intangible creation and that, as a result, banks could not distribute enough money to buy what a country produced, Norman Jacques, member of parliament for Wetaskiwin, Alberta, addressed a Social Credit audience yesterday evening in the Truth Centre.

The four Social Credit candidates here, Mrs. O. H. Knudsvig, Lieutenant-Col. C. B. Messiter, E. Saxton White and P. E. George, also spoke briefly.

"Under the present rule of supply and demand," Mr. Jacques said, "we are doomed to scarcity forever. There is a penalty for producing, and with the orthodox financial system, there is no solution to the problem."

"After talking to people from the Atlantic to the Pacific, including members of Parliament, I am convinced that Social Credit is the key to the situation."

Mr. Jacques said the ignorance of people, including statesmen, regarding the financial system, was amazing.

Banks, he said, created $10 for every one deposited. But the money was not created in the interest of the general public. Instead, the banks were being allowed a monopoly in the creation of money in the interests of a few.

It was a fallacy that there was a large sum of money lying idle at any time. Money was born as a debt in the banking system paid out in wages, salaries and dividends, passed back through retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers and destroyed on re-entering the bank.

"But," Mr. Jacques said, "for every dollar that the bank creates as a debt, let us assume that six cents interest has to be paid. Unless the six cents can also be created, where will it come from? Without bigger debts interest cannot be paid."

The speaker denied that anyone could deny flaws existed in the financial system. "I have challenged audiences across the country without a person showing that the principles of Social Credit are in any way wrong," he said. Economists had shown that collective prices were constantly higher than the collective value of the currency in a country.

"We do not wish to nationalize the banks," Mr. Jacques said. "We don't want the government to enter any business. But we want a special department to find how much money is required to balance supply and demand, taking as credit all products and all the machinery of production, and as debts all scrapped machinery and consumption."

"We believe there will be sufficient work for everyone under the Social Credit system for many years. A great deal of production is necessary before we can undertake the needs of the people. Many are living on bare necessities."

"Financial conventions were changed during the Great War. They can be changed for peace."

There was nothing to prevent members of the old-line parties from adopting the principles of Social Credit, Mr. Jacques said, and still remaining Liberals and Conservatives.

Mrs. Knudsvig, the first speaker on the programme, read the platform of the Social Credit party. Social Credit, she said, might save thousands from turning to Communism, and dividends would add much to the lives of many who were on the road to failure.

Mr. Saxton White spoke briefly on the history of the present economic system, which, he said, was un-British. Before gambling among the upper classes and need of money for the lower classes, England had adopted the banking system, it was against the law for any man to lend money for usury. Then methods of book-keeping sprang up which were intended to make matters easy for the financier, on the principle that those who had plenty of money would not care and those who cared were in a position to say nothing.

The Social Credit party was not attempting to destroy the foundations of the economic system, but to restore it to its original form.

P. E. George said that Social Credit had the key to distribution, which was relatively at a standstill while production moved steadily ahead. With 54 cents of every dollar paid in taxes going into the debt funds of the province, and the debt quickly mounting, the resources of the province would soon be mortgaged.

It was the duty of Social Credit party to put the province on a sound

Here from East

Rev. Dr. Robert Laird, treasurer of the United Church of Canada, will be here today to attend the British Columbia Conference of the church. Dr. Laird will return from his present tour of the west in time to attend the World Alliance of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches, holding its fifteenth quadrennial council in Montreal in June. He has been nominated as president of this worldwide organization, and his election will formally take place at the June meeting.

Dr. Laird was born at Maleque, Prince Edward Island, and was a student at Pictou Academy, Pictou, Nova Scotia. He graduated in arts and theology at Queen's University and Kingston, and later studied in Berlin, Germany. He was eight years in Queen's University as financial secretary and professor of practical theology. Since 1913 he has been in Toronto as secretary of the board of finance and the general board of the Presbyterian Church. He was also executive secretary of the Presbyterian Forward Movement, and was elected treasurer of the United Church of Canada on union.

New Viewpoint On B.C. Labor Policy

Careful Handling Has Meant Change in Attitude, Says Mrs. Nancy Hodges; Lack of Strikes Seen as Result; City Liberal Candidates Heard

The labor policy of the Pattullo government, directed by Hon. George S. Pearson, has brought about a new viewpoint among employers toward their help, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, Liberal candidate, declared in an address last night at a rally in the Oak Bay Theatre Hall.

Mrs. Hodges spoke with Byron "Boss" Johnson, Alderman W. T. Straith, two of the other candidates, and Carew Martin. Hon. John Hart, the Minister of Finance, had intended to be present but was detained on government business.

Mrs. Hodges declared the minimum wages act hours of work acts in the first place had removed many of the injustices and discriminations against employees. There was no doubt they meant a great deal to working men and women.

More important than the legislation itself, she contended, was the fair manner in which it had been administered. Large employers of labor, who at first feared or resented government regulation of business, had been persuaded, and had come to realize, that it was truly for the benefit of the province.

The Liberal attitude to health and welfare services was much similar, Mrs. Hodges declared. She told of the work done in establishing health units in rural communities, the tremendous increase in health education, and particularly of the efficient attack organized by Dr. Weir's department on tuberculosis.

PHYSICAL RECREATION

One of the outstanding contributions of the present government to the health of the province was the establishment of physical recreation facilities for unemployed—classes which she declared, through a start of six training centres this year now spread to fifty points with 10,000 persons taking part.

Alderman Straith also dealt with the health services. Dr. Weir, he said, had brought a new understanding to the problems and was devoting more to the preventive side, as instanced by the increase from one to four in the number of traveling clinics for tuberculosis.

Despite improved health facilities all around, the per capita cost was actually reduced from $4.79 in 1932 to $4.02 in 1937, he declared.

PRACTICAL TEACHING

As a former school trustee, Alderman Straith said the introduction of Dr. Weir's "practical curriculum" into the schools was a distinctly progressive step.

"Our educational system has been largely directed toward the university," he said. "The tragedy is that only one pupil in ten reaches the university. The other nine are left with an academic training not adapted to the pioneer industries of this province. That is what the new curriculum takes care of. It eliminates the old bogey of examinations which everyone knows were unfair. It provides that each child's bent shall be watched and trained instead of being run through the mill like paper through a machine."

Teaching standards had been raised by specifying senior matriculation requirements for teachers, correspondence courses directed to help those in outlying districts, school districts had been consolidated to cut down costs and increase efficiency. Today, Alderman Straith said, the east recognized that British Columbia had the best education system in Canada.

LACK OF STRIKES

Mr. Johnson, in a brief review of the government's record, also referred to the labor policy. To the same administration of Mr. Pearson he attributed largely the lack of serious industrial strikes in the province.

The guiding hand of Mr. Hart on the fiscal policies had been "a credit to Victoria," said Mr. Johnson. The value received for public works expenditure was reflected in road improvement and as far as Victoria was concerned, "the Malahat today is a standing tribute to Hon. P. M. MacPherson," he declared.

Mr. Johnson cited discrimination against B.C. in loans under the Dominion Housing Act as an example of the province's position within Canada that must be rectified when the national commission on taxation makes its investigation.

CONSTITUTIONAL CASE

"Many people probably do not realize how important this commission is going to be to us," he said. "And don't forget. The deal which we get when the new alignment is made will depend upon the representations that are made. We are in duty bound to entrust those representations to men like Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Hart, who have made such a long and thorough study of British Columbia's case."

In the matter of federal subsidies alone, British Columbia had been unfairly treated, receiving less than any of the other provinces, he said. In recognition of this the government had obtained an interim yearly grant of $750,000 until the final settlement was made. But it was clear from the figures that until the full readjustment came on a fair basis B.C. must continue going into debt if it wanted to develop properly.

Mr. Martin expressed himself as amazed that the Conservatives, who without question were the "worst government B.C. ever had," between 1928 and 1933, should now have the temerity to attack the Liberal record. Having proved themselves absolutely incapable of governing, having disintegrated at the last minute after staying past their constitutional time, they now had really no reason to ask for election except they "wanted the jobs."

"The people of British Columbia are not crazy enough to ask for another dose of that," he said.

Premier Pattullo's favorable reception of Yukon annexation was an example of his nerve, courage and vision, Mr. Martin said. He recalled that when Seward put through the purchase of Alaska for the U.S. at a price of $7,000,000 he had been roundly attacked. Today his opponents were forgotten but Seward's name went into history for a statesmanlike piece of business. Those with this kind of vision would see the advantage to B.C. in taking in the Yukon.

H. A. Beckwith was chairman.

Rev. Dr. Gerson A. Sisco, M.A., secretary of the General Council of the United Church of Canada, will arrive in Victoria tomorrow to attend the thirteenth annual session of the British Columbia Conference of the United Church of Canada, at Metropolitan Church. Social Ownership Is C.C.F. Plank

Only Cure For Unemployment Say City Candidates and Mrs. Grace MacInnes at Chamber of Commerce Rally

Social ownership was advanced as the only cure for unemployment at a C.C.F. campaign rally in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening at which Grace MacInnes, daughter of J. S. Woodworth, national leader of the C.C.F., spoke.

On the platform were the C.C.F. candidates for Victoria—Mrs. K. A. Bell, Nigel Morgan and James J. Walker. William Caird, the fourth candidate, was absent owing to illness. Welsh Lee was in the chair and F. L. Cammiad, secretary of the Unemployed Workers' Association, briefly recited the relief situation in Victoria.

"The unemployed are being kept as potential scabs for the civic employees," Mr. Cammiad declared. Relief in the city was subsidised to the tune of 80 per cent by the government, and the unemployed were being used on projects where the city would normally employ non-relief workers. Since the relief grants had been made the city had been able to cut its budget every year.

The social ownership plank in the C.C.F. platform was held out as the most important by both Mrs. MacInnes and Mr. Morgan.

UNEMPLOYMENT'S EFFECT

Mr. Morgan drew attention to the effect that unemployment was having among the youth of the country. In the province last year, 736 young men were arrested, 328 jailed. Half the crime in British Columbia was committed by youths, and 30 per cent of those entering asylums were in their twenties.

Mrs. MacInnes told how the C.C.F. proposed to bring about social ownership. First it would be necessary to create immediate funds to widen social services. These would be raised by taxation on large incomes and corporation profits. The great stream of wealth was flowing out of this province untapped, she said.

As far as social ownership was concerned, Mrs. MacInnes drew upon the example of Sweden. In this Scandinavian country, socialism had been in progress for the last 100 years. The state owned one-third of the forest wealth of the country, a greater portion of the mines, and most of the electric power. Telephone and telegraph were publicly owned utilities. Liquor and tobacco were state monopolies.

In Denmark where electricity had been nationalized there were more electrified hog pens than electrified farm houses in Canada.

On the advent of a socialist government in Sweden, unemployment had been definitely recognized and a programme of socially useful public works, such as schools and workers' homes, had been instituted at trade union rates of pay, Mrs. MacInnes said. Now the unemployment had been reduced to a mere seasonal problem.

All this had been done under democracy, she said. The Nazis ran in the last Swedish election and got only seven tenths of 1 per cent of the vote.

"In all countries, the only progress that has been made has been made through social ownership," Mrs. MacInnes declared.

SEATTLE POWER

"Every year Seattle saves its people a sum exceeding the total taxation of the city through owning its own heat and power plant," Mr. Morgan said.

The candidate told how the privately owned utility had been forced to bring its rates down to the level of the City Light and Power. Through owning its own utility, Seattle was the best lighted city on the North American continent. It used more electrical appliances than any other city on earth.

The social ownership of power had not been brought about without a struggle, Mr. Morgan said. The private company had given huge grants to Sunday schools to win sympathy, had installed dictaphones in the house of the head of the City Light in order to get something on him, and had created a huge publicity fund, but had failed.

The suffragettes had a motto that human life was worth more than profit, Mrs. Bell said, in declaring that she had become a socialist during the war.

"We have only to listen to the condition of the unemployed to feel rebellious," she said. "But feeling rebellious is not enough without knowing what to do about it."

Washington, May 18.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, former skipper of the dirigible Hindenburg, will receive the Daniel Guggenheim Medal for "notable contributions to transoceanic air transport and international co-operation in aeronautics." The choice was announced last night.

CLUB STUDIES NEW T.B. AIM

Kiwanians to Consider Rehabilitation Plan; Learn of Scrap Iron

The Kiwanis Club will hold a special meeting next week to give full consideration to a proposal for a new objective in the fight against tuberculosis—a field in which the club has been active since 1928 with its T.B. seal campaign.

Members discussed the question at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel today after Charles Pangman, chairman of the T.B. seal committee, had brought in a report.

The proposal is that the Kiwanis Club should finance a new organization, to be known as the Victoria Tuberculosis Rehabilitation Association, to provide work for convalescing patients, and also to train men formerly employed in strenuous occupations more suited to their physical capacities.

The association would be operated in conjunction with the provincial government's recently instituted T.B. clinic here, and would have a directorate with the majority control in the hands of club members.

At its luncheon today the club also heard from Morris L. Greene a description of the scrap iron industry in its modern form, vastly different from the old junk trade.

The address was the third in a series dealing with local industries to be heard at meetings this season.

"The scrap iron industry on this continent has taken on an annual turnover of $890,000,000," said Mr. Greene. "Today it is considered big business. It is a business done all over the world in huge proportions, a large employer of labor, paying high wages, a specialized business."

In Victoria the industry had taken thirty-six families off the relief rolls in the last two years, he said.

Mr. Greene briefly traced the history of the development of the scrap iron industry, and deprecated scrap materials, such as cotton, wool and lumber, can be regrown, but minerals cannot be replaced once they are taken out of the ground," he said.

The speaker was introduced by J. Murray Martindale and thanked by Walter M. Walker, president of the club.

YOUNGSTER IS FATALY HURT
Joseph N. Howie, Nine, Is Victim in Tragic Street Accident

Nine-year-old Joseph Nicholas Howie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Howie, 704 Vancouver Street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday evening at 9.20 o'clock as the result of a tragic accident in which he was struck by a motorcycle.

According to the police report, the lad was playing football on Vancouver Street with some young companions. They were playing on the east sidewalk of the street and the ball was kicked to the other side.

Joseph started across the street to retrieve it and as he did so he paused momentarily to allow a motorcycle driven by Edward L. Rainsford, Cadboro Bay, to pass.

He apparently failed to see a second machine, however, proceeding in the same direction, driven by William Melville, Work Point Barracks. Mr. Melville jammed on his brakes as the boy ran out behind the Rainsford machine, and although he swerved in an attempt to miss the boy, he was unsuccessful. The motorcycle skidded about forty-eight feet before the impact.

The boy was thrown to the ground and was picked up by Mr. Melville, who summoned a passing car to rush him to hospital. The lad suffered a severe skull fracture. He was attended by J. H. Moore.

An inquest will be held on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The audience of one motion picture theatre vacated the building hurriedly, as did night club occupants.

Firemen brought chemicals into play in an effort to quench flames which at times shot twenty feet into the air, but were instructed later by Fire Chief Barney J. Houston to "let the flames burn themselves out."

Pickets Seen At Movie Theatres
Hollywood Studio Strikers Consider Extending Move From California

Los Angeles, May 18.—Plans to picket "every theatre in the Chicago area this week" were made by striking United States film craftsmen today in their campaign for a nationwide boycott.

Effectiveness of the picketing was shown, officials said, by pleas they had received from southern California theatre owners that the marchers be withdrawn. The leaders declared they had no intention of withdrawing the pickets and were pressing their campaign in the larger cities.

TEAMSTERS AT STUDIOS
An agreement was reached between the striking Federated Motion Picture Craftsmen and the Building Trades Council whereby teamsters, carpenters and other union men employed by contractors inside studio lots would be permitted to enter through a designated gate. Two of the striking crafts, the machinists and culinary workers, have returned to work, but eight other unions are holding out for a union shop as their chief demand.

DR. PLASKETT IN NEW POST

Former Observatory Director Named Technical Advisor to Big Company

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, who retired two years ago from the post of director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, has been appointed scientific consultant to the firm of Warner and Swasey, Cleveland, builders of telescopes and other scientific instruments.

He returned from the Ohio city a few days ago after observing the progress of the work of shaping an eighty-two-inch mirror being made by the company for the McDonald Observatory in Texas.

Dr. Plaskett had a seat of honor in Philadelphia at the ceremony of fixing the last bolt in the tube for the 200-inch telescope to be erected at Mt. Palomar, California, largest instrument in the world. Einstein was one of the other guests of honor at the event.

The company with which Dr. Plaskett is now connected built the seventy-two-inch telescope at the observatory here.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today
MAY 18, 1912
(From The Times Files)

One of the prettiest of May weddings was solemnized on Wednesday evening last at the Metropolitan Methodist Church when Rev. E. T. Holling united in wedlock Miss Lily Freer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freer, Paignton, England, and Leonard Osborne, formerly of the same city, but now a resident of Victoria.

After a long negotiation an arrangement has apparently been reached in connection with the action of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway in threatening an action over the diversion of the right-of-way at Sooke Lake. The sum of $5,000 is asked to close the whole matter up, but did not finally pass the Council, some of the aldermen seeing further time to talk it over.

So far the wireless stations on the west coast have been unable to get in communication with the new C.P.R. steamer Princess Sophia which is expected to arrive in port next Monday. She left San Diego Monday last and by this time should be well this side of San Francisco.

Mrs. Thomas Fawcett, the wife of the popular purser of the Princess Victoria, has returned from California very much improved in health and is at present staying at the James Bay Hotel.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN

Provincial Police Find Ties and Poles on C.P.R. Track at Grand Forks

Nelson, May 18.—British Columbia and railway police today were investigating an apparent attempt to obstruct a trans-continental Canadian Pacific Railway train just outside the city limits of Grand Forks, about eighty miles southwest of here.

Officers of the Provincial Police detachment in this West Kootenay centre said three railway ties and seven telegraph-poles cross-pieces were found on the main line of the railway early this morning.

They said a yard sign had been also torn down, a danger-signal reflector smashed and a coal-oil lamp broken and placed on the right-of-way beside a bundle of oil-soaked cotton waste.

Officers said British Columbia police stationed at Grand Forks since April's outbreak of bombing and blasting in predominately "Doughboy" - settled areas of the West Kootenay interior were working on the case, but had "nothing to report at present." Eleven schools and community halls have been destroyed or damaged by fire and bomb since April 4.

This morning's outbreak was the fifth time in slightly more than five years that Canadian Pacific property has been attacked. In December, 1931, a railway chute at Grand Forks, 150 tons of coal and a box car were burned with a total loss of $18,000. On April 13 of the next year rails were damaged at Fisherman Creek nearby, and similar damage was reported again April 17.

Five days later a railway water tank at Perry Siding was bombed, and on April 27 a switch was blown up at Thurman.

Fisherman Creek, Perry Siding and Thurman are all in the West Kootenay area.

The regular meeting of St. Paul's branch A.Y.F.A. will be held in the guild room of the church house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. A programme will be arranged and members are asked to be present.

Big Steel Works in Ohio Insist Officials Keep Streets Open

ANTIQUE AND MODERN
Furniture and Effects

Cleveland, May 18.—The Republic Steel Corporation, in a statement today, said its plants would be shut and kept shut "until civil authorities clear the streets" in the event picketing should make it impossible for its employees to reach their jobs. The steel workers' organizing committee has threatened a strike against the company if it does not sign a bargaining contract.
Spokesmen for the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., against which Committee for Industrial Organization officials also have threatened a strike, said the same course would be followed by them.
DESIRE TO WORK
"As nearly as we can tell," the Republic statement said, "our men want to work and we want them to work. However, if outsiders blockade the streets so that our men are unable to come to work we will shut down and stay down until civil authorities clear the streets and make it possible for our men to return."
The Republic employs about 22,000 while the Youngstown Sheet and Tube has 26,085.
The two companies are important objectives in the attempt of the steel workers' organizing committee to organize the independent steel industry.

Freddie Miller Wins Decision of Cincinnati, former world featherweight champion, easily outpointed Maxie Fisher of Newark, N.J., in the 134½, was the aggressor from the start and had his rival in difficulties as early as the first round.

Adanacs Score Easy Victory
New Westminster, May 18.—New Westminster Adanacs flashed brilliant attacks in the first and final quarters last night to whip Vancouver Burrards, 18 to 7, in an Inter-city Box Lacrosse League fixture before a capacity crowd in Queen's Park Arena here.
Adanacs, scoring seven goals in the first quarter to Burrards' lone

Bob Driscoll Is Hurt in Mishap

Albany, N.Y., May 18.—Robert Driscoll, twenty-two-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology student from Victoria, suffered lacerations when thrown from his outboard motorboat in the Albany-to-New York race.
The mishap occurred several miles down the Hudson River from Albany, apparently when Driscoll's boat struck a floating obstruction, overturned and sank. Driscoll was taken to Albany City Hospital.

The second feature on the same programme is "Everybody Dance."

"Elephant Boy" Is International Hit
"Elephant Boy," Korda's latest release, which took the fancy of a distinguished audience when it was premiered recently at the Leicester Square Theatre, has just made a big hit in New York. The Radio Broadway audience was so enthused over this exciting jungle film that they stood up and cheered, which is certainly unusual for a film crowd. The picture is also doing very well in Paris, where it is in its fifth week and still packing them in.

Harlow, Taylor To Star Here
Two of the outstanding names in the film firmament are co-starred in "Personal Property" which will be the attraction at the Capitol Theatre starting tomorrow. They are Jean Harlow and Robert Taylor, making their first appearance together in the comedy-drama, based on the H. M.
Harwood stage play, "Man in Possession," which enjoyed a hit run on the New York stage.

The new picture, coming from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, was directed by W. S. Van Dyke who has come to be known as "the man who has never made a failure" as the result of his direction of such successive hits as "Rose Marie," "San Francisco,"
"After the Thin Man" and numerous other successes.

CAPITOL THEATRE
"The Prince and the Pauper," which is now at the Capitol Theatre, is Mark Twain's immortal classic about the heir to the British throne and the thief's son who were born at the same moment in the sixteenth century, and whose lives became entangled because of a close resemblance.

RED CROSS WORKSHOP

Industrials Rally Late In Wall Street After Early Slump

New York, May 18.—Stocks took a late rallying turn in today's market after a doleful performance in which numerous issues tumbled into new low ground for the year or longer.

The list climbed under leadership provided by selected steels, motors, rails, coppers and specialties. While there was some profit selling before the close, gains of fractions to around 4 points were widely distributed.

The comeback followed Washington advice the Senate judiciary committee had voted 10 to 8 to recommend the administration's Supreme Court bill adversely to the Senate.

In the morning there was a brief flurry of offerings in the wake of announcement Justice Van De Water would retire from active service on the high bench June 2.

Except for utilities, which exhibited weakness most of the day, buying support soon appeared for favored industrials.

The ticker tape lagged for a while in the last hour.

Transfers were around 1,200,000 shares.

Bonds did better.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.)

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty Industrials—169.27, up 2.13.

Twenty rails—57.93, up 0.80.

Twenty utilities—27.38, up 0.18.

Forty bonds—101.20, up 0.05.

THE FERN FAMILY

More than 4,000 kinds of ferns are known. They differ in height from tiny plants only an inch or two high to great tree-ferns which are higher than most fruit trees. All continents of the earth have ferns, and they are found growing wild in woodland places.

Most plants have flowers—even the tough old cactus that grows on the desert—but ferns do not have real flowers. They come to "fruit," however, and produce "spores." The spores are not classed as seeds, for they will not grow into ferns after taking root.

An Ostrich Fern

When spores take root, little plants grow up with tiny heart-shaped leaves. These plants do not look like ferns, but they produce what we may call "true fern seeds." Then the little plants with heart-shaped leaves die, their duty having been done.

Maidenhair, oak, marsh, beech, cinnamon, Boston and Christmas ferns are among the better known kinds. Others include the lady fern, the ostrich fern, the rusty woodsia, the sensitive fern and the so-called "flowering" fern which does not actually have flowers. All of these are pretty in one way or another. When the ostrich fern uncurls its long "frond," it gives us a very interesting sight.

The frond of a fern includes all the leafy part, extending up and down the plant as we see it. Nature experts say the frond makes just one single leaf. Parts of the frond are called as "pinnules" and "pinnae."

Many persons like ferns so well that they grow them in their homes and gardens. Ferns grow well in shady places. They usually do not live long if exposed to the hot glare of the sun.

Some of the ferns we see about us are less than two feet high, though now and then we may observe some which are several feet high. Tree-ferns are not natives of North America, but are found in South America, also in tropical islands of the Pacific. They reach heights of more than forty feet.

There are water-ferns as well as those which grow in the woodlands. One kind of water-fern has a stem which creeps along the ground in marshes, and also lives under water. Another kind, the salvinia, floats on the surface of the water, part of it being above and part of it below.

Vast ages ago, the earth had more ferns than it does now. There were giant tree-ferns, and vast numbers of other kinds. Ferns in great number helped make up the dead plant life which, in ages since, has turned into coal.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—A number of us have been arguing about which are more valuable to their parents—boys or girls. What do you think? We want your opinion.

Answer: It depends, of course, upon what return the individual boys and girls make to their parents. But, taking the matter by and large, I think the average father and mother get more comfort and more support out of their daughters than they do their sons.

There are exceptions to all rules, and there are many men who never forget their obligation to those who bore and reared them and who are the prop and stay of their parents. But for most men the old rhyme holds true that tells us that "my son is my son until he gets him a wife, but by daughter is my daughter all of her life."

The tradition that a son is more valuable to his parents than a daughter is founded upon the old order when men were needed for fighting, for hunting, for tilling the soil and when the support of a family depended on them. Then girls were just so much excess baggage, so the speak. Months to be fed, backs to be clothed, they were a burden upon their families until they could be unloaded on husbands. So it was no wonder that the advent of a son was hailed with feasting and joy and the birth of a girl was an occasion for lamentations and weeping.

But all of that is changed now. In poor families girls get to work as soon as boys. Most of them earn as much and are far more generous to their families with what they make. It is the girls who fix up the home and buy Mother and Father new clothes and little comforts. But so far from appreciating this and realizing how much more their daughters do for them than their sons do, many parents feel that they have a right to all that a girl earns and take her pay envelope from her as a matter of course while they do not dream of treating their sons that way. Many a mother who confiscates Mary's weekly salary without even so much as saying "thank you" boasts of what a good son John is if he makes her an occasional present.

Furthermore, when the children marry and go about the business of life for themselves, it is the daughters who never waver in their affections for the old people at home. No matter how busy they are they find time for their weekly letter to Mother and Father, and if it is humanly possible they go back to visit them. But many a son never writes home and gets so absorbed in his family and his business that he lets years go by without ever paying his parents a visit.

When the old home is broken up it is the daughters who take their parents in to live with them, not the sons, except rarely. No matter how big their houses there is not room enough in it for the old people, but a daughter can always find a place for Mother or Father even if she lives in a shack.

Most of the men who are supporting old people are taking care of their wives' parents, not their own.

DEAR MISS DIX—We are two young men in our early twenties who are always out for a good time. We are good spenders and are targets for gold-diggers. Here is our problem: We are tired of being hung up all the time and we are fed up on the hints they drop at every opportunity for things they want and places they want to go. We have tried every method known to modern man to ditch these females, but all to no avail. What is your advice as to how to get rid of these "would-be-brides"?

TWO ANXIOUS BOYS.

Answer: I should say that your only safety is in flight. Scram. Beat it. Take to the tall timber, and go while the going is good. If you stay in their vicinity there is no more chance for you to escape from your gold-diggers than there would be from a bloodhound that was hot on your trail. They have tasted easy money and they are going to get their man.

But, boys, have you ever heard the old proverb that he who dances must pay the piper? It is a rule that never fails. The lads who are out for a good time and who are easy spenders always pick up the kind of ladies that you have, and their price comes high.

In such cases the men's intentions are never serious, but the women's are and they not infrequently include blackmail, breach-of-promise suits and other forms of hold-ups which leave the lads wiser and poorer men.

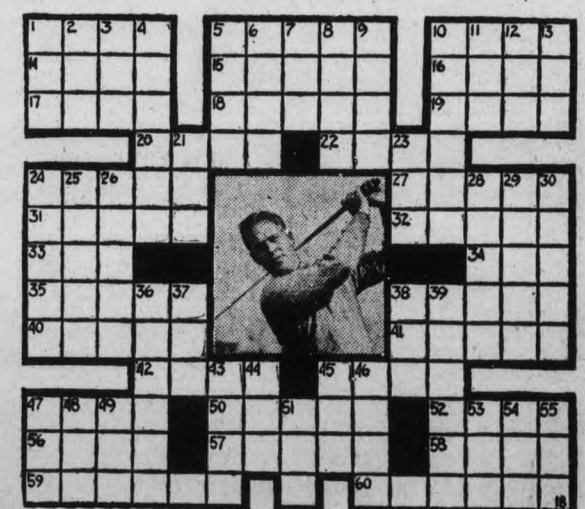

Men always flatter themselves that when they get tired of a woman they can get rid of her by the simple expedient of saying: "Good night, the party is over." But the trick is not so easily turned as that. Many a good-time Charlie has found out to his sorrow that nothing else on earth is so hard to free oneself from as a predatory female. She can stick tighter than an adhesive plaster and be more irritating, and when he finally does get rid of her she takes his hide off too.

Perhaps, if you can convince your "would-be-brides" that you are broke and that your object is not matrimony, they will find other victims. But don't forget about having to pay for your fun. That is a rule that always works.

LOCAL YOUTHS IN SHIPWRECK

David Kirkendale and Patrick Cavin Were Aboard Freighter Corrientes

Patrick Martin Cavin of Victoria went to sea for the first time in his life early in April as a cadet aboard the Donaldson freighter Corrientes and before he reached his destination he had been in a shipwreck.

"Pat," the son of Capt. and Mrs. E. M. Cavin of Montreal Street, was aboard the Corrientes Sunday when she was in collision with the steamship Umtali, off Greenhills, in the River Thames, just a stone's throw from its destination at the Royal Albert docks.

An officer aboard the Corrientes was killed, but there were no other injuries, as far as is known here.

Capt. George Kirkendale, harbor-master at Victoria, whose son David is third officer on the Corrientes, this morning received a cable saying "all O.K."

Holed amidships, the Corrientes was beached near where she collided. The Umtali, outbound for South Africa, went back to Tilbury for repairs. She was badly damaged about the bow.

The Corrientes was here early in April and loaded full with British Columbia products for the United Kingdom. She was due back here late in June, but her arrival will probably be delayed.

May Call Off Atlantic Race

Paris, May 18.—The New York-Paris "Lindbergh" air derby will probably be called off in view of official United States opposition, it was reported in well-informed circles here today.

Pierre Cot, Air Minister, was reportedly cool to the new proposal that the race be held with a starting point in Canada instead of the United States.

The reasons invoked by United States officials for their opposition to the race were to be regarded as equally valid for Canada, according to the view attributed to Cot.

Ottawa, May 18.—Canada likely will follow the lead of the United States and refuse licenses for the projected New York to Paris trans-Atlantic air race if efforts are made to shift the take-off to this country. This attitude was indicated here yesterday although French Air Ministry officials had made no approach to the Canadian Government on the subject.

After Colonel Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of the American Department of Commerce, announced licenses for the race would be refused in the United States, French Air Ministry officials said they were considering switching the take-off to Canada.

DOLLAR FLAG FOR VESSELS

"President" Ships on North Pacific Run Will Change Houseflags Saturday

New York, May 18.—R. Stanley Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Lines, announced yesterday services of the American Mail Line and the Pacific Steamship Lines will be merged under the Dollar flag, effective Saturday.

Since the two services were acquired by the Dollar interests from the Shipping Board at the close of the Great War, they have been operated separately.

The American Mail Line operates a fleet of four liners between Victoria, Seattle and Orient ports, with arrivals and departures here every two weeks.

The Ss. President Jefferson, when she sails from Victoria Saturday for the Orient will go out under the Dollar Line houseflag. The other three ships in this service are the President Grant, the President Jackson and the President McKinley.

The Pacific Steamship Lines in recent years has operated a fleet of ships between the Northwest and California ports. The ships are the H. F. Alexander, the Emma Alexander and the Ruth Alexander, but so far this season they have been received as to whether they would operate during the summer months. It is considered unlikely they will be put in service.

Blame Company For Collision

Coroner's Jury Said C.N.R. Did Not Take "Proper Precautions"

Springhill, N.S., May 18.—The Canadian National Railways did not take "proper precautions" against the May 5 collision between the "Ocean Limited" and a string of runaway coal cars that cost six lives, a coroner's jury found yesterday.

"We find the Canadian National Railways have not taken proper precautions in the past to prevent this accident from taking place," the jury's verdict said. "We recommend all possible precautions be installed to prevent a like accident happening in the future."

The verdict was reached at conclusion of an inquest into the death of Clarence Bauer of Moncton, N.B., "Ocean Limited" driver.

Crew of the shunting train, moving the coal cars when nine of them broke away and rolled out on the main line into the path of the fast Montreal-Halifax express, was exonerated of all responsibility in the collision, near Springhill Junction.

The jury's verdict, brought in after nearly two hours' deliberation, recommended immediate establishment of all methods of accident prevention at the spot.

Witnesses testified no derailing switch as a safety appliance was present at the point of the runaway, and that a derailer would have prevented the collision.

Dr. F. E. Walsh of Springhill testified engineer Bauer died of scalds from escaping steam or hot water from the wrecked locomotive.

Railway employees explained a lone car had been sent down the track with brakes set and eight other cars, all loaded with coal, had been driven against it by a flying shunt.

The brakes on the lone car gave way, causing the nine loaded ones to go down the steep grade west of Springhill Junction at an increasing speed toward the approaching "Ocean Limited." The shunter set in pursuit but was unable to catch the run-aways.

Vancouver, May 18.—Pilot Charles Elliott of Pacific Airways landed his Waco cabin by-plane here yesterday night after a flight from Prince Rupert, with P. Walker, deputy provincial secretary, and Mrs. A. R. Nichols of Prince Rupert.

The 500-mile flight was made in about five and one-half hours with a stop at Alert Bay to refuel.

Mr. Walker has been in the north in connection with provincial election business.

Mrs. Nichols came to Vancouver to pay a brief visit to her sister here, Mrs. A. M. Manson.

J. H. B. Reid, assistant catering superintendent, has been named to take Mr. Byrom's place.
